TRUMAN ASKS CONGRESS FOR CONTROL LAW

Submits Bill To Give Him Anti-Inflation Powers To Control Price Levels.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 29—President Truman asked today that congress give him power to roll back prices on essential cost of living items to the level of prices in November 1947 or the nearest appropriate period."

Mr Truman sent Paul Porter former OPA administrator to the capitol with details of what he wants.

The President had asked generally for anti-inflation powers in his message to the special session of congress

Porter went before the house banking committee with the President's proposals prepared in the form of a bill

Would Extend to 1950

The bill proposes also limited powers between now and June 30 1950

▶To ration a few products in short supply

▶Some authority over wages in the manufacture of items put under price control.

▶Restoration of war time controls over consumer credit, such as restraints on installment buying

▶Direct authority to regulate speculation on commodity exchanges

▶Authority to regulate bank credit

▶Strengthening of rent control with the administration to bring de-controlled housing units back under rent ceilings if it deems it necessary

▶Inventory control of scarce commodities which basically effect the essential industrial production or the cost of living and the right to ration them to industries.

Profits Bill Coming

Porter told reporters that a separate bill will be sent to congress proposing the restoration of the war time excess profits taxes.

Even before the program was presented, Republican leaders had declared they could not approve such controls Some said it would mean a "police state"

The measure Porter presented says price ceilings may be put on when

▶The commodity is important to the cost of living, or of production

▶The price has risen or threatens to rise at least 20 per cent above the June 1946 level or nearest representative period

▶Regulation of the price is practicable and enforceable

▶The public interest will be secured by such regulation.

The measure says price ceilings set must be "generally fair and equitable," and must take into consideration speculative fluctuations changes in cost, changes in profits and other relative factors since November, 1947

Temporary "Freeze" Provided

It would permit a temporary freeze of prices pending industry consultation, and would provide for hearings and review of price fixing orders

The bill stipulates that for agricultural commodities any maximum price must be high enough to reflect the parity price or a comparable price established by the secretary of agriculture

On wages, the legislation

Establishes wage controls over employes only when a maximum price has been established affecting the employer and when the employer expects to use the wage adjustment as a basis for seeking a price increase

A wage board would be created, and would have power to rule on whether a proposed wage increase was necessary 1 To compensate for increases in the cost of living or prevent lowering of living standards 2 To correct inequities in the wage structure, 3 To correct substandards of living, or 4 To maintain essential production

Farben Blast Dead Mounts; Reds Charge It Was War Plant

By The Associated Press

LUDWIGSHAFEN, GERMANY, July 29—German investigators of the greatest European disaster since the war brushed aside today Communist charges that the exploded Farben chemical plant here was making war materiel.

Police in this French zone Rhine city said 84 bodies were recovered and that about 250 persons were missing and presumed dead. To the apparent death toll of 334, they added 2,000 injured

Mannheim police across the river estimated the dead at between 500 and 800 U S Army officials there said 6 200 were injured many in Mannheim and other nearby American zone places by the terrific concussion

The plant employed 22 000 workers. The explosion and swiftly spreading fires demolished or damaged 18 buildings It was the largest plant in the French occupation zone

Communist newspapers in Berlin asserted the factory, a main stem of the once-great I G Farben Industrie Trust which operated 400 plants in Germany and 100 elsewhere in the world before the war was making war materiel illegally

German investigators who were at last able to approach the center of the destruction said preliminary findings indicated the disaster was touched off by ethyl chloride an industrial chemical.

No Americans were believed killed in the explosion

Destruction Sudden

Police said the plant's big administration building was destroyed so quickly that its occupants had little chance to escape Heat and intense chemical fumes still barred firemen from the building

Outwardly at least, the plant produced only industrial chemicals, pharmaceutical mixtures, dyes and similar products But the Communist press in Berlin claimed that the disaster was caused by illegal production of war materiels.

The Russian-controlled National Zeitung, offering no proof, said that "under French trusteeship" the Ludwigshafen plant was producing explosives for rocket bombs The plant is located in the French occupation zone.

Guarded comments of some Farben workers cast an air of mystery around the explosion When French soldiers blocked German reporters from the plant, several survivors commented:

"No wonder They've got something to hide"

Whether the survivors spoke from knowledge or mere assumption in the excitement of the explosion could not be learned

Some persons who worked in the plant said they could not identify the products they were making

Cause Not Determined

Cause of the original explosion could not be determined until the wreckage cooled enough to permit investigation And the devastation is so great that the cause may never be learned

Late last night new explosions boomed in the flaming wreckage of the plant imperilling rescue squads trying to save trapped workers Shortly before midnight flames still raged over a half-mile square area

American and French soldiers with German firemen and police plunged into the blazing inferno to save trapped workers Some wore gas masks Others operated bulldozers to nudge paths through the wreckage

Special efforts were being made to prevent the flames from reaching underground storage tanks reported to contain highly volatile chemicals

U S Army Sgt William H McKee of Murfreesboro, Tenn, hopped on a caterpillar tractor and pulled a line of tank cars filled with explosive fluids from the path of the fire His buddies said he was a hero who deserved a medal

One by one rescue workers wearing gas masks dragged out blood-smeared men and women from under beams or walls that had escaped the fire Sometimes the person on the stretcher was still breathing Sometimes the victim was dead, distorted by heat or discolored by chemicals.

Strong fumes from burning chemicals sent survivors reeling about the streets like blind men. Survivors were so shocked and dazed by concussion that few could realize what had happened. Even those wounded only slightly were unable to give clear accounts of their experiences

U.S. CONVICTS NINE GERMANS

Farben Directors Found Guilty of Looting but Are Freed of War Blame.

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Germany, July 29—Nine directors of the Giant F G Farben chemical trust were convicted today of looting industries in countries subjugated by Hitler's armies

The judgement, by a United States military tribunal, acquitted all 24 leaders of Farben on charges of plotting and waging aggressive war The court said the blame for this clearly lay with the politicians and militarists of the third reich

The opinion, delivered after an 11-month trial, dealt with five counts against Farben's board of directors. The court said evidence failed to support the prosecutions on two of the counts dealing with aggressive war

Prove Third Count

A third count, spoliation and plunder of occupied countries, was amply proved, the judgment said, against Directors Hermann Schmitz, Georg Von Schnitzler, Fritz Ter Meer, Ernst Buergin, Paul Haefliger, Max Ilgner, Friedrich Jaehne, Heinrich Oster, and Hans Kugler

The judgment was handed down by presiding Judge Curtis G Shake of Vincennes, Ind., after an 11-month trial. This entire first day of the two-day reading of the verdict was devoted to the count accusing Farben's directors of waging aggressive war

The board of Farben, multi-million dollar chemical trust which extended throughout the world, was acquitted on at least two of the five counts—promoting war and conspiring to gain Germany's ascendance by means of war.

In so doing the court noted that Field Marshal Gen Wilhelm Keitel, chief of Germany's high command went so far as to object that Karl Krauch chairman of Farben had more knowledge than was absolutely necessary about war plans

Kept in Dark on War

Keitel was hanged as a war criminal. If Krauch was kept in the dark it appeared evident that lesser figures in Farben's board knew even less about Hitler's grandios plans.

The same aggressive war count was dismissed by another court in the case against the Krupp gunmaking firm several months ago. In all cases against German industrialists thus far, U S war crimes prosecutors have failed to make this charge stick

At the height of its power, Far-

3 WORKERS KILLED IN PLANT EXPLOSION

By The United Press

NEMOURS, W Va., July 29—An explosion ripped through the E I Du Pont De Nemours and Co. plant here today Plant manager T A. O'Barr said three workers were killed. The cause was unknown.

O'Barr listed the dead as David H Nell Jr., 37, of Nemours Howard Gillespie, 27, of Yards James Tabor 36, Nemours

O'Barr said the explosion occurred in a small building used for pressing black powder for soft rock and coal blasting

He said the three men were the only persons in the 20 by 40 foot structure at the time Other buildings escaped damage but operations were halted pending an investigation.

Only one person is normally employed in the operation Gillespie was the regular employe while Nell was in the building on inspection as foreman. Tabor was bringing the powder there to be processed.

The plant normally employs 60 persons. O'Barr said.

He described the blast as "not as severe as such explosions usually are." It was the first explosion at the plant since its creation in 1906, O'Barr said.

1,500 Police To Guard Truman in New York

By International News Service

NEW YORK, July 29—A force of 1 500 policemen will guard President Truman and his party when they visit the International Air Exposition Saturday at New York's International airport.

The presidential plane is scheduled to arrive from Washington at 2 15 p m and depart at 4 p m.

Gov Thomas E. Dewey, members of the cabinet and the diplomatic corps in Washington, Gov Alfred Driscoll and Mayor William O'Dwyer will participate in ceremonies formally dedicating the airport.

It is a feature of New York City's golden anniversary celebration.

DANIELS ORDERED TO RICHLAND CO.

Van Wert Judge Turns Him Over to Mansfield.

By The Associated Press

VAN WERT O, July 29—Common Pleas Judge Eugene McNeill today ordered Robert Murl Daniels, 24, accused of six killings released to Richland county authorities for trial at Mansfield on a triple murder charge

Sheriff F Roy Schaffer planned to go at once to Celina where Daniels has been held to turn the prisoner over to Richland county officials Daniels was to be taken to Mansfield this afternoon and, under Judge McNeill's instructions, confined in a cell at the state reformatory pending trial

The court stipulated that for what he termed security reasons the announcement of release of the prisoner to Richland county authorities not be published until 3 p m., EST

The decision to yield Daniels to Richland county came after a

Pickets March but No Violence Develops as Workers Return.

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., July 29—Pickets only marched and shouted "scab" today and no heads were cracked at the strike-bound Univis Lens Co plant.

With 100 policemen standing by tight lines the expected violence failed to come when the open-shop company reopened its plant for the fourth consecutive day

By 8 15 a m., 700 production workers had entered—unmolested—but with jeers of "scab" and "skunk" following them.

Husky Lou Kaplan, international organizer of the striking CIO United Electrical Workers Local 766, directed three picket lines despite a court order barring him even from the vicinity of the plant.

Kaplan said he had not been served with the order He was still wearing a patch on his head and a fractured finger suffered in yesterday's melee was in splints

Speaks To Crowd

Haranguing the crowd from a union sound truck, Kaplan shouted, you are witnessing the results of one of the most vicious laws the Taft-Hartley law This is what happens when working people don't get out and vote Look at the police lines and remember it next election day Elect a city commission representing workers and not management"

Arthur L. Garfield of Detroit secretary of the General Motors conference of all United Electrical Workers locals, also spoke from the sound truck

"This is not just a situation involving Dayton" he said "It involves Wall Street. A vice president of Lehman brothers is on the Univis board of directors."

The mass picketing followed an announcement by the Montgom-

SOME DRAFTEES MAY BE SENT OVERSEAS

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, July 29 — The Army indicated today that some men called up under the new peacetime draft may be on their way overseas 10 to 12 weeks after donning uniforms

The estimate was included in an official draft circular sent by the Army to its advisory boards throughout the country Local draft boards are expected to start drafting men 19-through-25 about Oct. 1

But Lt Gen Willard S Paul, Army personnel chief, hinted the Army may not need as many draftees as originally estimated If the Army gets enough volunteers, he said, "we probably won't draft any one"

The new Army circular said each draftee will receive eight weeks basic military training after he has been processed and assigned After that he may be sent

NAME STASSEN COLLEGE HEAD

Minnesotan Chosen as New President of University of Pennsylvania.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, July 29—The University of Pennsylvania today named Harold E. Stassen as its new president.

Announcement of the nomination of the 41-year-old Minnesotan came after a special meeting of the university's board of trustees. Salary terms were not disclosed.

The nomination was made "pursuant to the unanimous recommendation of the executive board of the university"

An announcement by the university said:

"The election of Governor Stassen will take place at a special meeting of the board to be held in September.

"Dr George William McClelland, now president of the university, will at that time be elected to the chairmanship of the university"

The former Minnesota governor, who was unsuccessful in his bid for the Republican party's presidential nomination last month, will become he youngest president in the university's history.

BEVIN WANTS HALT IN DEMOBILIZATION

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 29 — Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today the British government is considering a halt in demobilization of its armed forces because of the tension between Russia and the West

He told a hushed house of commons a decision will be reached "in a few days"

He held out hope that current diplomatic maneuvers of Britain, the United States and France with Russia might determine whether there is a chance of ending the cold war, hottest at Berlin which the Russians have blockaded for a month by land.

Bevin said the labor government, in allowing British armed forces to be reduced at the rate of 30,000 a month, had not assumed "that the policy of our war time allies would lead to a situation which might involve the use of force."

"The situation that has now arisen has, of course, compelled us to reexamine the whole position," he said. "I have not given up hope * * *"

Wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill pledged the labor government the support of the conservative opposition he leads. He asked whether demobilization would be halted "until at least the Berlin situation is satisfactorily resolved."

Bevin spoke soon after U S Ambassador W Bedell Smith reached Moscow with plans of the western powers for a verbal approach to Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in the Kremlin.

The ambassadors of Britain, the U S. and France are expected to talk with Molotov within a few days about the Berlin blockade crisis and other problems.

SOUTHERNERS OPEN UP ON POLL TAX BILL

Lot of Talk but No Action Seen; Truman Anti-Inflation Bill Assailed.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 29—Anti-poll tax legislation was brought up in the senate today and southerners immediately began filibustering tactics.

It was evident that this first measure to get consideration in the special congress session would draw a lot of talk, but probably no action.

Prospects were no brighter, either, for President Truman's anti-inflation program. Paul Porter, former OPA administrator, took a detailed bill embracing the program before the house banking committee It asks price control and rationing power and aims at shoving prices of cost-of-living items back toward November, 1947, levels.

A storm of GOP hostility greeted Porter and the bill. Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) said the administration had powers it was not using. He also asserted that President Truman broke "the price line" by encouraging a wage increase for steel workers near the end of the war.

The anti-poll tax legislation would outlaw payment of state poll taxes as a requirement for voting in federal elections. It has passed the house.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) moved that the senate consider it, saying he did so in a "bipedal spirit."

Senator Russell (D-Ga) promptly started delaying tactics. He asked a quorum call This is a call of the roll to determine whether a majority of the senate is present.

Senator Stennis (D-Miss) was ready to make a long speech.

For several hours late yesterday it appeared that a "gentlemen's agreement" might avoid a talkfest on the politically explosive issue. Russell said southerners would drop their fight if the Republicans would agree (A) to call up only the poll tax repealer this session and (B) to change that house-passed bill into a proposed constitutional amendment. Since that would require ratification by 36 of the 48 states, the 11 southern states, if they stuck together, would need only two more votes to block it.

Conference Held

Wherry, Russell, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and other leaders of both the majority party and Dixie Democrats held numerous cloakroom conferences. But all some not saying no agreement had been reached

"Even if we passed the poll tax we still must consider anti-lynch and FEPC," Wherry said.

And Taft, chairman of the GOP policy committee, added: "we will take up the poll tax bill as is"

Senator Maybank (D-SC), giving his own version of the huddle, said his own retort to the Republican position was "Oh, yeah?"

Across the house, Rep. Bender (R-Ohio), sponsor of the pending bill to outlaw poll taxes now required by seven southern states and New Hampshire, took sharp issue with the proposed compromise

He called any plan to substitute a constitutional amendment for an outright law "a shabby device to evade the issue" and "a meaningless gesture"

GOP Senators Satisfied

In the senate, there was no sign of any great Republican unhappiness over the impending filibuster.

"The southerners are entitled to a reasonable time for debate," said Taft. He explained that sessions probably would run only until about 5 p m. today and tomorrow

As for next week and whether there might be night meetings if the Dixie contingent still held the floor, Taft said he didn't know

But he recalled Mr Truman's contention that the Republicans can pass an anti-poll tax bill if they want to and added: "We'll exhaust every parliamentary effort to do it."

Former GOP Senator From Indiana Dies

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 29 — James Eli Watson of Indiana, Republican leader of the senate during President Hoover's administration died today at the age of 84.

The colorful Hoosier served in congress under eight presidents but was swept out of office by the Democratic landslide of 1932 He was stricken with internal hemorrhages on Oct. 12 and taken to a local hospital

Watson maintained a law office here after leaving the senate

One of the "Old Guard" Republicans of a bygone era, he was elected in 1894 to the house, where he served for 12 years He was elected to the senate in 1916 and served until 1923

Members of the family confirmed the news of Mr Watson's death They said he had died unexpectedly this morning.

Marion Girl Wins Picnic Crown on 20th Birthday

One thousand happy citizens from Marion and surrounding counties were on hand at Crystal Lake Park yesterday at the first annual farmer-merchants picnic to see Ilene Bender, daughter of James Bender of 284 Mary street, win the countywide popularity and beauty-contest on her twentieth birthday

"It's the nicest birthday present any girl could have," Miss Bender, a 5 feet, 4 inch, black eyed, black haired typist at Frank Bros store, said today She won the prize by applause of the picnic throngs as recorded by an electric applause meter, from a field of four other shop-girl contestants and five farm girls in the contest. Miss Bender is a Harding High graduate of the class of 1946

Judges checking the applause on the meter as each of the ten contestants, five city, and five rural girls stepped to the front of the platform were Carl H. Lehner, Marion county commissioner, John Ryan and Lloyd Letz, co-chairmen of the contest committee. Competing with Miss Bender for the popularity crown were Jean Griffith of 161 North Seffner avenue Shirley Hoher-

Jet Plane Hits Auto Near Wright Field

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., July 29—Alton W Williams of Columbus got some first-hand information on the speed of jet planes yesterday—in fact, more than he anticipated.

Williams, a Columbus insurance adjuster, parked his automobile outside Wright Field near here to watch the Army planes land and take off.

A jet Lockheed Shooting Star piloted by First Lieut. Robert A Hoover undershot the field and swooped across the automobile denting its top and breaking the windshield.

The plane then jumped a fence and pancaked in a nearby field It was badly damaged.

Both Williams and the jet pilot escaped injury.

J. P. Sharkey Transferred By Standard Oil Company

J. P SHARKEY

Promotion of J P Sharkey division manager of the Standard Oil company here, to the managership of the company's Columbus division is being announced today by A A Stambaugh, vice president in charge of marketing for the Standard Oil of Ohio, Cleveland. He will take over his new duties Aug 1.

Division manager here for the last 12 years, Mr Sharkey has been associated with the Marion office 16 years. He came to Marion as assistant division manager to R G Tracy when the division headquarters were established in 1932. Prior to that time he was with the company at Hamilton, O.

Active in Civic Affairs

In addition to his work as the company's representative here, Mr. Sharkey has taken an active part in civic affairs in the community. During the war years he participated in bond drives and for several years was a member of the board of trustees of the Marion Community Foundation, taking an active part in the work of the organization and campaigns. He is a member of the Kiwanis club, serving on various committees and also as a program chairman, and is a member of the Marion Country club, and the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr Sharkey's association with the company covers a period of 28 years. His first position was service station solicitor at Hamilton and later he was promoted to the positions of specialty salesman and industrial salesman. In 1929 he was made a field man and the following year was advanced to the field managership at Hamilton, a position he held until coming to Marion as assistant division manager.

Son in Army

Mr and Mrs Sharkey have one son, Captain Neil J Sharkey, commanding officer of Headquarters company, 38th infantry, at Camp Carson Colo. The Sharkey home is at 667 King avenue.

Mr Sharkey's successor has not been named. Mr Tracy was on Mr Sharkey was first an e ator with here is division manager a Toledo.

abroad to school or to posts in this country.

During the war it took from two to four weeks to process and equip a soldier and send him to camp. Figured on this basis, the Army's statement means that draftees could be on their way overseas in from 10 to 12 weeks.

Gen Paul told newsmen that 182,000 new recruits signed up in June, and 16,606 volunteered the first two weeks of July.

The Army needs roughly 50,000 men a month to reach and maintain its authorized strength of 790,000 officers and men. If the July enlistment rate were maintained, the Army would need only about 14,000 draftees a month.

ANNUAL HUBER CO. OUTING DATE SET

Picnic To Be Held Aug. 7 at Garfield Park.

The annual Huber Mfg Co picnic for all Huber workers and their families, one of the main events on Huber's extra-curricular calendar, is being revived this year and will be held Saturday, Aug. 7, at Garfield Park. This will be the first company picnic since 1946. It is being held again this year due to popular demand from the employes.

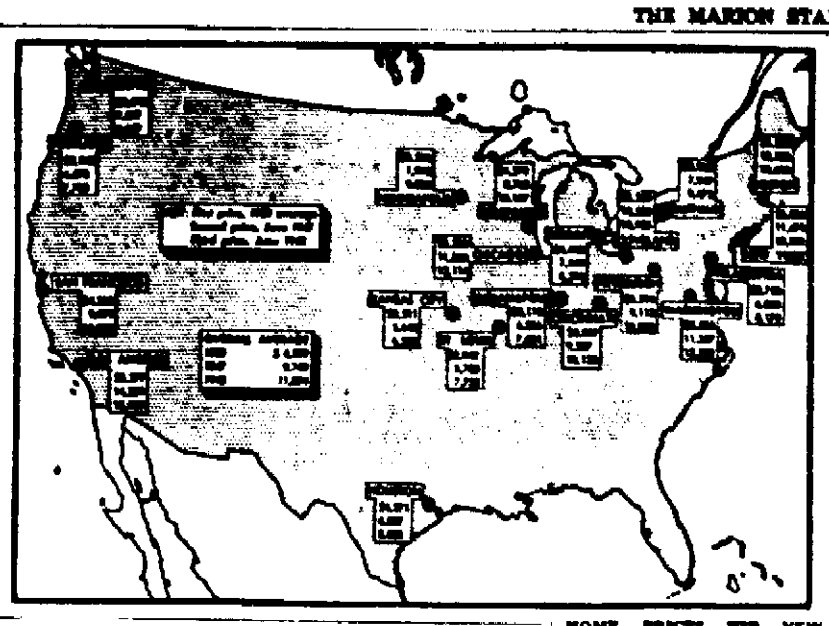
Games, sports and contests of all kinds have been arranged for both young and old and a big prize drawing will be held.

Chairman of this year's picnic committee is Walter Wolbert. He is being assisted by Bill Armbruster Sr., Larry Edgington, John Garee, Ted Anderson, Wally Conkle, Ward Poorman, Jack Jones, Joe Seiter, Virgil Mitton, Nile Mell, Audrey Christman, Thad Krumli, Don A Howard and Lavern Burkhile.

The picnic dinner is scheduled to be served at 5 p. m. The food, which will include ham, potato salad, baked beans, buns, ice cream, coffee and milk, will be furnished by the company.

An outstanding new feature of the picnic will be a cake contest. All Huber wives and mothers are asked to bring cakes to the picnic and enter them in a contest. A prize of $10 will be awarded for the best cake, second place money will be $7.50 and third prize will be $5. The cakes will be served at the picnic.

Other entertainment will include a ball game between Ted Anderson's Huber softball team and a team from Prospect. It will be a regulation seven-inning game on the Garfield park diamond.



YOUTH SHOT IN CHASE

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 29—A state highway patrolman yesterday shot and wounded seriously a 16-year-old Youngstown youth whom he sought to question about a stolen car. The shooting followed a chase, launched after the boy was reported to have driven away from a West Jefferson, O., gas station without paying for a purchase. Police said the boy had been armed with a revolver in a shoulder holster.

HOME PRICES HIT NEW PEAKS.

Home prices in the U. S. are at a new peak, up nearly 15 per cent from June, 1947, says a government-ordered survey of home price averages in 20 areas. Here are cities surveyed, with prices of houses-plus-lots in 1938, 1947 and 1948. Percentage increases for the past year range from a low of 4.1 in Cleveland to more than 30 for fast-growing cities of St. Louis and Houston.

SEEK WAY TO AVERT GASOLINE SHORTAGE

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, July 29—Government and oil industry representatives meet today to discuss methods of averting a threatened gasoline shortage late this summer and a heating oil shortage next winter.

As they prepared to go into the closed meeting, government officials said the gasoline outlook is "better than we expected." They said the nation may get through the harvest season with only a few isolated shortages.

They said a proposed voluntary industrywide program to meet emergency needs in the event of a shortage is being held up pending its approval by Attorney General Tom Clark.

Atty. General Clark must decide that the program does not violate anti-trust laws before it can go into effect.

Today's meeting is the regular quarterly conference of the national petroleum council, the interior department's industry advisory group.

It follows a secret two-day conference between industry and military men on plans for meeting the oil and gasoline needs of the armed forces in event of war.

Col. Gustave Vogel of the armed forces petroleum board said the conferees discussed ways and means of getting enough oil, aircraft gasoline and jet fuels "in event the United States is forced into war."

Upper Sandusky Club Prepares for Drive

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 29—Plans were completed and supplies distributed at a recent meeting of the Rams Booster club here for the athletic field bleacher seats drive for funds to start Monday, Aug. 2. Territory in Upper Sandusky and the school district was divided among 14 captains and nearly 100 solicitors. A report on the progress of the drive will be given at another meeting set for Thursday evening, Aug. 5. The goal for the drive was set at $7,500 to build 12 rows of seats between the 15 yards lines with an estimated capacity of 1,600.

The Russian government has appropriated one billion dollars for the development of television.

Galion Health Officials OK City Swimming Pool

Special to The Star

GALION, July 29—Authorities have assured the public that any source of contagion has been eliminated from the municipal swimming pool at Heise park. A drop in the number of swimmers because of a mild case of polio in the city and chilly weather brought about the statement by Service Director John F. Porter. The pool was drained and scrubbed two weeks ago and every possible precaution has been taken by officials.

LICENSE GRANTED

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 29—A marriage license was issued in probate court here to Donald Eugene Cole, Hancock county, Central Steel and Rubber Co. employe and Charlotte Lou Parker, Wharton.

Lifebuoy with its Purifying Ingredient

GETS SKIN CLEANER

STOPS "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

Top 24-hour protection! A daily Lifebuoy bath stops B.O.—gives you lasting all-over protection. Yes, a Lifebuoy bath each day guards your charm as no other leading soap can! Be popular with Lifebuoy!

Lifebuoy is used in the homes of 40 million considerate Americans

DOCTORS PROVED it with 820 scientific tests!

The cleaner you get your skin, the doctors found, the safer you are from "B.O." (body odor). Any soap will remove all the grime and perspiration you can see. But it's the "unseable dirt," the doctors say, that may form a foothold for "B.O."

The doctors compared the effects of daily baths with different soaps. The results are amazing! Actually you are cleaner, safer from "B.O." when you take your daily bath with Lifebuoy. Doctors say Lifebuoy's clean-smelling purifying ingredient makes the difference. And this same purifying ingredient actually makes Lifebuoy milder . . . safe even for a baby's tender skin!

So bathe daily with Lifebuoy . . . because Lifebuoy gets skin cleaner, keeps you safer from "B.O." Lifebuoy is made from a special oil blend that gives you such an abundant, refreshing lather. Remember: Lifebuoy gives you cleaner skin, stops "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1948

Root of All Evil

PRESIDENT TRUMAN, the members of congress, officials of the government's executive branch, bankers and all literate members of the American public are in complete agreement on the prime cure for inflation. It isn't likely to be mentioned however, because the thing they agree on is too delicate for public discussion. It concerns the money supply.

The government could have checked inflation at any time during the last eight years if it had wanted to. But it did not want to. It had been trying to cheapen money since 1930. War finally turned the trick in 1940. Since then, money inflation has been given a free rein by government itself, with the hearty approval of all citizens, including those who complain that prices are too high but who have not been heard to complain that their share of the inflated national income is too high.

Clearest way to see the connection between the money supply and inflation is to note that currency outside banks now totals $25,400,000,000. This is almost four times as much currency as was being passed around 10 years ago. Time deposits in banks are twice as large. Demand deposits are up 160 percent, the total money supply in eight years had risen from $66,200,000,000 to $170,000,000,000 at the end of last year—and is still rising.

The money supply is both a cause and a symptom of inflation. Those who understand it know that any attempt to check inflation which does not start with steps to restore the value of dollars, now cheaper than they have been at any time in the nation's history, is either conceived in ignorance or deceit. The point is worth remembering as a great many people prepare to do something about a matter that usually isn't even talked about because it might be misunderstood; i.e., the inflationary bubble might burst if handled indiscreetly, as it did once before on a notable occasion in 1929 and 1930.

Government by Compromise

ONLY France could elect a premier whose party controls but 43 of the 619 assembly votes. Andre Marie, the new premier, is a Radical Socialist, heading a party that's neither radical or Socialist.

So France will be governed, as it almost always has been in its days as a republic, by men who have no clear mandate. It has relied on governments of coalitions and compromises, resolving the conflicts of right and left in precarious alliances of the center.

This is likely to last as long as France has a democratic vote, for the French are individualists not given to political solidarity. Yet they must have a government, so they hold their differences in abeyance and agree on a cabinet.

The same situation might prevail in the United States had it not been for the oft-condemned electoral college which has nurtured the two-party system. Our splinter parties are feeble organisms because normally they have little weight in presidential elections. If the Constitution is amended to provide for the choice of electors in proportion to the number of votes cast, the situation will change—and hardly for the better if France sets the pattern.

Citizenship Restored

DURING the war about 5,300 citizens of Japanese ancestry renounced citizenship under a law passed in 1944 authorizing this renunciation. The law was drafted after the supreme court held that the government could not detain in a relocation center any citizen of unquestioned loyalty.

A federal district judge in California now holds these citizenship renunciations to be invalid.

The court took cognizance of the fact that many relocation center inmates were there by their own choice because of hostile public sentiment and that many willingly signed their renunciations. But it held that the renunciants acted abnormally under abnormal circumstances.

As for the government, the court held it erred. But it added: "The government need not sheepishly confess error; it must be stalwart and forthright in its recognition of injustice. By so doing, faith and confidence in our system of law will be maintained."

Meeting Our Oil Needs

THE latest oil strike is in California's Cuyama valley, where a new supply of 6,000 barrels a day is spouting from the ground. Other strikes have been made recently in Colorado, Wyoming and Montana. The latest estimate on the submarine field off the Louisiana coast puts the probable total available at 15,000,000,000 barrels.

New methods of recovering refining petroleum are being discovered. The amount that can be wrung from oil-bearing shales staggers the imagination.

The nation's oil consumption has reached a figure undreamed of a decade ago. New fields, methods and equipment are continually needed to keep the supply near the demand. So far that has been accomplished with reasonable success.

Inflation and Why Everything's High

ONE reason given by President Truman for calling this special session of congress is that prices are too high and that the country is suffering from inflation. He, of course, does not say that wages are too high, or that taxes are too high, or that government expenditures are too high, or, for that matter, that everything has moved to a higher level, thus altering the value of our dollar and creating a new set of proportions. He is trying to give the impression that nothing is too high but prices, and Henry Wallace adds to prices, profits, and between them they are trying to build an election on an emotion.

SOKOLSKY

This over-simplification may be good campaign talk, but there is another side to this picture. According to the national industrial conference board, taking its data from federal reserve bank reports:

"Demand deposits (excepting government and interbank) increased 119 per cent from the end of December, 1941, to the end of January, 1948. Deposits of individuals rose 214 per cent in the same period."

In a word, the savings of the people have increased in bank deposits of all sorts, rising from a total of $37,600,000,000 on Dec. 31, 1941, to $82,400,000,000 on Jan. 30, 1948. Individual accounts, which include all sorts of non-business people, like farmers, doctors, lawyers, workingmen, rose from $9,600,000,000 on Dec. 31, 1941, to $30,100,000,000 on Jan. 30, 1948. The largest proportionate rise, in percentages, is in this category of "individuals," which in the 1941 figure showed 25.5 per cent; in the 1948 figures, 28.5 per cent.

Comfortably Situated

In a word, the American people are not going broke. No people can go broke who have money in the bank, if that money has purchasing power—and no one can deny that the American dollar still has purchasing power anywhere on earth.

If, during the war years, the American people could not increase their wealth by buying things such as motor cars, refrigerators, etc., they nevertheless increased their wealth by putting money in the bank. It might be argued that the money is not worth as much in 1948 as it was in 1941, but the fact remains that income, in whatever form, must have exceeded outgo or there would be no balance in the bank. The plus and minus signs still mean something concrete to the American mind.

Therefore, what needs to be studied is our entire monetary and fiscal system. What makes prices high. My own estimate is that the biggest factor in high prices is high taxes, because every tax is added on to the price in some manner and the cumulative effect is enormous. Taxes are high for correct and wrong reasons. They are high because we had a war which cost the American people some $300,000,000,000. Taxes are high because we have taken on two huge burdens on account of the war, namely, the servicing of the foreign debt and the care of the veterans and their families. This burden we shall carry in our taxes for several generations. Adequate and proper administration may save a little, but it will not change the picture radically.

Subsidies Have a Part

Another burden upon the American people and one that keeps prices high is the system of subsidies to farmers, workers, education, business which has been established over many years. This is not something that can be considered haphazardly. Farm prices can sink so low that our entire economy can be distorted; yet they need not be kept so high that our entire economy is distorted. Government buying and stockpiling is inevitable, but there is no reason why this necessity should become a hidden and difficult-to-trace subsidy to business.

In summary, a scientific approach to this problem is necessary, not a hit-or-miss attempt to make campaign fodder out of it. No one will benefit by keeping that pot boiling with nothing in it but the sloppy verbiage of campaigning politicians. In the end, prices will be higher because Mr. Truman, in his desperation, is forced to meet demands which the country cannot afford to meet. Congress would do well to postpone this question of prices until it can be approached from the standpoint of national, not partisan, interest.

Test of Inflation Issue

By Walter Lippmann

THERE is a simple test by which the public can find out who is trying to deal sincerely and intelligently with the inflation.

Does the candidate begin or end his oration with a clear explanation and a stern warning that if his program is effective it must be painful to farmers, wage earners, businessmen and bankers.

Does he say that to stop the inflation is to stop the boom, that in order to bring down prices it will be necessary to reduce prosperity, profits, business expansion, public works, sales, and the market for labor?

LIPPMANN

Does he put the people on notice that they can not continue to enjoy the benefits of inflation—that is to say full employment, high wages, booming markets, high profits—and at the same time be able to buy at lower prices everything they are trying to buy?

If the public man says none of this, if he believes or pretends to believe that he can reduce the prevailing prices without reducing the current incomes of farmers, workers, and businessmen, if, in other words, he talks as if the people could have their cake and eat it, too, he is deceiving himself.

The inflation is due to the fact that while American production is just about at maximum capacity, the purchasing power at the disposal of consumers and investors is being increased.

It is impossible to increase the production of goods. Steel, mining, textiles, oil, paper, durable goods plants, the construction industry, are operating at about their capacity. Production could be increased only if there were more labor, if there were more steel, more raw materials, and more transportation. There is no more available, and in the short run, more can not be made available.

Only Way To Cut

Therefore, the high price level can not now be reduced by increased production. It can be reduced only by decreasing the demand. But measures to decrease the demand will be painful to those whose spending power is reduced, and they will, no matter what the sentiment against the high cost of living, be extremely unpopular.

To reduce spending power it would be necessary to raise taxes, to reduce consumer credit, that is to say installment buying, to reduce bank loans which finance business expansion and inventories, to arrest public works by the cities, the states, and the federal government, to make money dearer, to lower the support of farm prices, to raise the ceiling on hours of work and lower the floor under wages.

Because a policy of disinflation is inherently painful, unpopular—and dangerous in that it may get out of hand and bring on a deflation—no free government is able to disinflate except with the united support of its leading political parties. A disinflation can be carried out only if both parties share the responsibility, only if neither party can exploit the consequences against the other. No one, therefore, who is serious and sincere about it, would make it a partisan issue on the eve of an election.

Partisan Issue

The very fact that he made it a partisan issue is almost conclusive evidence that he does not expect to deal with the realities of the problem, and that he merely wants a talking point. Thus if Mr. Truman expected to act at once and if he knew what the effects of action would be, his first concern would be to make sure that he had an agreed program to which the Republicans were committed.

For no one would want to break the boom on his own responsibility alone. But a candidate would be only too glad to create an illusion that he could have reduced the cost of living without breaking the boom.

To create that illusion he must ask for powers which he will not have to use. The way to ask for them without getting them is to ask for them in such a way that the other party is almost certain not to grant them—that is to say by making it a personal triumph for himself and a public humiliation for them if they do grant them.

If Mr. Truman wanted the powers because his first concern was the public interest, he would recognize that to get them he must conciliate, not antagonize, the congress. He would make it plain that to use those powers when he got them, he would need the full co-operation of both parties and the whole people.

In dealing with foreign affairs that is what he has done. There the intention is sincere and public spirited. But as respects inflation he is pursuing exactly the opposite course, making demands on congress which are formulated and posed in a way which makes agreement improbable, which makes national unity impossible.

That is because on inflation his intentions are partisan, are directed not to a remedy for inflation but to the making of a campaign issue.

Evolution Story

By The Associated Press

NAIROBI, Kenya—Aid in untangling the story of evolution for man and apes is expected to come from remains of fossil apes uncovered by the University of California expedition to Tursana province. Wendell Phillips, head of the expedition, says the remains of the apes are among a large number of fossils found.

Primitive crocodiles, elephants, pigs, rodents, a rhinoceros skull and a turtle seven feet long and four feet wide are among the finds. Many of these animals lived 40 million years ago. The fossil beds are hemmed in by lava flows and consist largely of volcanic ash washed down by rivers. Life in that area at that time must have been precarious, the scientists say.

Too Late for Water Wings

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, July 29, 1938. Government experts in Washington said the 1938 income was virtually certain to exceed $61,000,000,000.

John K. Bartram was elected president of the Junior Bar section of the Ohio State Bar association at the close of joint sessions of the state and national associations in Cleveland.

Names of 30 motorists accused of traffic violations appeared on the traffic docket in municipal court. Of that number only eight reported. Those not reporting were to be summoned by the police.

Damage estimated at more than $10,000 resulted from a fire at Idlewild park north of Kenton.

Mrs. Arden Millisor of Summit street entertained at two tables of contract for the pleasure of Mrs. Smith Witter of Canton and Mrs. Arthur Zachman of Chicago.

Mrs. Grace Strawser of Kensington place was hostess for a picnic supper held by the Junior and Senior Starlight clubs.

A new automatic bread wrapping machine capable of handling from 12 to 25 loaves each minute had been installed and was in use at the Baber Baking Co. plant on South Prospect street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, July 29, 1928. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Loffer of 11 miles east of Marion.

Members of Marion Council, Knights of Columbus, and guests, making up a company of more than 600, attended the council's annual picnic at the fairgrounds. A ball game between teams captained by N. G. Irvin and Thomas Andrews was won by the Irvin team and a tug of war was won by a team captained by William Fabian.

Members of the M. L. I. club and their families and friends held a picnic at the Marion Steam Shovel club grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall entertained a company of friends at their home east of the city complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Richard Secrest and son Robert and Mrs. Earl Andrew Ett, of Toledo and Mr. and Mrs. John Secrest.

The Marion Eagles baseball team defeated the Lechner Motors of Shreve, O., at Lincoln park, 5 to 4. Fish pitched for Marion and the batting of Rizor, Marion third baseman, who made three hits, was a feature of the game.

Try "Honey Healing"

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW — Experiments in healing with honey are continuing at a rapid pace in the Soviet Union where much progress has been reported.

A message from Sverdlovsk in Gudok said a candidate for a medical degree, Ivrish, is conducting interesting experiments in the Urals for obtaining healing honey and multiple-vitamin honey.

The bees, it was reported, are fed on honey or sugar liquid to which some medicinal substance or vitamin has been added.

"Bees eating this mixture," said the message, "are producing honey which includes the substance in concentrated form which was added to the original honey or sugar liquid."

Some of the kinds of honey obtained are carrot-milk, carrot-cabbage, egg-milk-carrot and black currant.

More than 80 different types of healing honey are now being prepared.

Story of the Burnt Toast

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

THIS is the tale of the piece of burnt toast that backfired.

Wilbur Peebles awoke with a bad taste in his mouth. It may have been that extra cigar, or it might have been that he got hold of a bad olive in a martini.

It was late.

"Just cawfeentoes," Wilbur yawned, heading for his shower.

His loving spouse, Trellis Mae, translated this to mean her soulmate didn't want to wait for his usual ham and eggs. She had the coffee steaming ready when he hit the breakfast nook. But the toaster was stuck.

HAL BOYLE

Wilbur fiddled impatiently. Little curls of smoke rose from the toaster. Then up clicked the toast. Burned. Too burnt to eat.

"Ugh-h-ha-a-a-row-w-w-r-rrr," said Wilbur, making zoo noises. But there was no time to wait for more. He gulped his coffee and left.

Wilbur missed his toast. He still had the bad taste in his mouth, and as he drove to work his annoyance grew. It didn't help any when his secretary, Miss Alice Squelch, reached the office 15 minutes late.

"I don't mind your not knowing how to spell," Wilbur greeted her, "but aren't you old enough to tell time yet either?"

Miss Squelch didn't answer. She just flounced down to the drug store to get some orange juice and coffee—against all office rules.

"Out late with your boy friend last night?" said the counterman cheerfully.

"Save that guff for your wife baldy," snapped Miss Squelch. She departed without leaving her usual nickel tip.

Milkman Is Target

The counterman viciously banged some dishes on the tin drain. He looked in the mirror at the bald spot on his head. When the dairyman came in an hour later to deliver his milk, the counterman bawled him out for being alive.

And so it spread from person to person throughout the day. Wilbur's ripple of resentment over his burnt toast grew into a wave of contagious ill-will.

Sometime after noon the dairyman dropped a case of milk on the foot of the man who owned a grocery store in the suburbs, the store where Mrs. Peebles traded. The owner later bawled out his delivery boy.

Still smarting, the delivery boy honked his horn sharply as he sped across an intersection. The traffic cop, nerves tingling, leaped three feet in the air as the truck whirred past.

The Clouds Lift

Back in his office something had happened to change Wilbur Peebles' whole outlook. The boss had called him in and given him a raise.

Wilbur came out grinning, his heart full of good will.

"Take the rest of the day off, Miss Squelch," he said cheerfully. "I'm going home early."

"I'm giving my two weeks' notice now," she told him surlily.

When Wilbur paused downstairs for a soft drink, the drugstore counterman told him sourly:

"Awright, mister, you see I only got two hands, don't you?"

As he reached an intersection near his home Wilbur failed to see the light was changing. The traffic cop blew him to a halt.

"Another wise guy," said the cop, the same one startled by the grocery truck's horn. "Maybe a ticket will slow you down."

Gets It on All Sides

Wilbur meekly took the ticket and drove on. As he parked before his home, the delivery boy emerged.

"Good afternoon," said Wilbur.

"What's good about it?" said the boy.

When he entered his door, Wilbur met a baleful glare from Trellis Mae.

"That smart-aleck delivery boy!" she exclaimed. "Always full of lip. And now I suppose I have to drop everything and get your dinner. Why don't you come home at the same time every day—like a normal husband?"

Wilbur was a little overwhelmed. His good will evaporated.

"What's the matter with everybody today?" he demanded crossly. "Has the world gone crazy?"

He didn't even remember the piece of burnt toast that started it all.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Why the Smiles?

Something has got to be done about the American smile. It has gone far enough. We hereby come out for federal smile control and quick. Any party promising it gets our support.

Desperadoes who kill unarmed people in cold blood appear in the newspapers smiling. Kidnapers of little children grin at the reader from ear to ear, young women arrested on one charge or another pretty themselves up and register happiness and delight from the police wagon.

PHILLIPS

The other day two bankers, a father and son whose bank had been ruined by the theft of $62,000 which was used to bet on horse races appeared in the papers walking right into the cameras with the smiles you would have expected only on men who had just made a hole in one or hit the jackpot in a radio contest. They were not sickly grins. There was nothing of the forced smile about 'em. They were the Form Number One smile worn by movie heroes, candidates for public office, beauty contest winners and winning baseball pitchers.

• • •

The elder banker 72 had started and built up a big bank. The son with him was one of the top officers. Their bank was gone and their private fortunes swept away, they said. Another son was in the newspaper business looking the institution.

• • •

We have been trying to figure it out. Obviously the old man and his unsmiling son were deeply hurt and very unhappy. No man can feel like smiling in such a situation. Yet they grinned in Technicolor. There must be some explanation. Do the photographers work a spell? Are they hypnotists?

• • •

Do their cries of "Come on, now, a nice big smile . . . and walk right into the camera!" mesmerize people? Or, as has been suggested, do their lawyers (who always manage to smile, too) instruct clients to smile, on the theory that anything remotely resembling a serious expression these cockeyed days suggests complicity or outright guilt?

• • •

It seems to us that any lawyer reasoning this way is strictly southpaw. On the other hand we would think that they would instruct clients in a firm voice, "Lissen, whatever you do for the photographers, don't act as if you had just made a double play at the Elks clambake!"

• • •

There was a time when Americans could smile or not smile, all depending on conditions.

• • •

But for the past few years the smile has become epidemic, compulsory and routine. You can't tell by a man's newspaper photo whether he has just been taken by the bloodhounds for sticking up a train or solved a "Stop The Music" riddle.

For Relief, Use This

By TRUMAN TWILL

Recreation, as everybody knows, is one of the biggest businesses in the United States. Horse racing, basketball, baseball, bowling, skeet-shooting, hunting, fishing, golfing, croquet, tennis, football, badminton, fireworks displays, merry-go-round—they're all included.

Just counting things that can be kept track of, such as admissions and the cost of equipment, business statisticians figure the American people laid out at least five billion dollars last year for recreation. If there were any way of knowing what it cost to spend the five billion, the total laid out for recreation might be five times that much.

For example, tickets for a baseball game cost x dollars. But what it costs to use the tickets probably is five times as much, including baby-sitters, meals, beverages, sedatives, transportation costs and sunburn lotion, if it was a hot day.

A fisherman may spend $50 on equipment, which becomes a matter of business records, but who knows how much the sap spends in the process of getting to the place where he can use the equipment? Or the 25,000,000 people who went to the races last year, the 14,000,000 who went to the basketball games and the 20,000,000 who went to see football games—who knows how much they spent in the pursuit of recreation? The part the statisticians see is only the beginning—only the beginning.

This is not a column about recreation statistics. It is a column to point out that the only sound idea to break the back of the depression before World War II did the job with high explosives was the Twill pyrotechnics theory. It was simple that the United States can have boom times without any casualty lists. Just shoot off plenty of fireworks.

Fireworks are a standard form of recreation. Therefore, when business goes limp the thing to do is to manufacture and shoot off tons of them. The noise and excitement will jar loose the clammy fears and suffocating restraints that make hard times. Thousands of new jobs will be created. The demand for high explosives will get money back into circulation. People will get so excited they will forget to be pessimistic—and presto, prosperity will burst over the country like a parachute rocket with a magnesium flare.

Other forms of recreation will boom. One thing will lead to another. That was the theory, but it was rejected. The masterminds waited for a war instead—for high explosives that meant casualty lists. Meanwhile, they fumbled with WPA.

The fireworks theory is still sound. If business starts to go limp again and no war is in sight to brace it up, salvation can be attained with an endless supply of rockets, pinwheels and three-color display pieces showing the American flag and the cryptic announcement, —Goodnight All.

TO START SOHIO PLANT AT LIMA

Will Break Ground Monday for New Refinery Cracking Unit.

Special to The Star

LIMA, July 29 — Ground will be broken for the huge new catalytic cracking unit at the Lima refinery of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio at noon on Monday, Aug. 2, it was announced today by I. L. Peterson, manager of the refinery.

All employes of the refinery will be present, along with civic guests.

The cat cracker, with its stack, will tower 195 feet high and will be the tallest industrial structure in the state. It will be higher than the 14-story Cook Tower, tallest building in Lima.

This fluid catalytic cracking plant is the first unit of the $16,000,000 Sohio expansion and modernization program at the Lima refinery, which will double its capacity.

It is expected that it will require about 12 to 15 months to complete construction. The Arthur G. McKee Company of Cleveland is the builder.

Program for Monday

In addition to a welcome by Mr. Peterson, brief remarks will be made at the ceremony Monday by Mayor William L. Ferguson of Lima, Leonard E. Hedge, president of the Union representing the refinery employes; E. B. McConnell, vice president of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio in charge of manufacturing; and R. S. Stewart, manager of Sohio's manufacturing operations.

Modernization and expansion program of Sohio at its Lima refinery involves the $11,000,000 fluid catalytic cracking plant, with its gas plant, water-cooling tower, gasoline treating and blending facilities and 20,000,000-gallon additions to the tankage facilities and the $5,000,000 oil refining unit, a combination crude oil distillation and cooking plant which will add 15,000 barrels daily to the crude oil processing capacity of the Lima plant.

To Increase Production

The catalytic cracking unit will embody the most modern design and is expected to produce 30 per cent more gasoline per barrel of crude oil and thus to be a major step in Sohio's conservation policy of making the greatest possible use of natural oil.

It is expected to run 16,000 barrels per day. It takes "gas oil", one of the distilled products from crude oil, and "cracks" it into raw gasoline.

The Arthur G. McKee Company expects to employ more than 2000 men during the peak period of construction. Upon completion, Sohio will increase its working force by 75 or more men. Sohio now employs 235 men at the Lima refinery.

Among the reasons for selecting the Lima refinery for the expanding manufacturing program was the fact that Lima has available land, boiler capacity, tankage, water separators, and other auxiliaries to provide for the unit.

This lowered the capital required for installation there at a time when the company needs capital for its multiple operations.

Lima also has the required geographic position to receive crude by pipeline and distribute products by pipeline into marketing areas where Sohio requires greater supplies.

Sohio also has refineries in Cleveland, Toledo and Latonia in Kentucky.

DROP IN FOOD PRICES NOTED

Consumers Buy Everything But Meat in Large Quantities.

By The Associated Press

F[illegible] averages eased somewhat this week in many sections of the nation. Consumers got the benefit of excellent crop weather. But they still paid considerably more than a year ago, and meat cuts continued in the luxury ranks.

Most consumers bought everything but meat in large quantities at the grocery, but high meat prices kept these sales down.

Sales of fresh vegetables and canned goods were reported larger than a year ago.

A survey by the American Institute of Food Distribution of chain and large markets reporting dollar sales 12 per cent above last July and stores in tourist and resort areas doing a [illegible] the same as a year ago. Wholesalers said a 5 per cent gain in sales over last July reflected the increase in [illegible].

Prices Center on Feed

[illegible] on future prices [illegible] department of [illegible] report that the feed supply will be one of the largest on record and 35 per cent more per animal than last year. This foreshadowed heavy feeding for hogs and cattle to garner the higher prices their fattened meat commands. A light kill in hogs this fall while they are being stuffed would indicate more porkchops available after the first of the year.

The United Nations' food and agriculture organization chipped in with the prediction Europe would be short of food until 1951 when prewar production should be regained.

The agriculture department recommended that farmers plant 8 per cent less acres in wheat next year. But with high government support prices promised some predicted farmers might plant as much as ever.

AP Price Index Drops

The food component of The Associated Press wholesale commodity price index dropped in the week to 153.22 from 154.02 the week before and was back roughly to the level a month ago. It was still way above the year's low of 142.76 May 14 and below the year's high of 165.58 Jan. 2.

The livestock component also eased to 261.52 from 263.29 the week before and the year's high of 285.67 June 9. It was at the year's low of 206.83 April 2.

The wholesale price index of 31 foods by Dun & Bradstreet dropped to $7.18 from $7.20 the previous week. Two weeks ago the all time high of $7.44 was set. The previous high was $7.28 Jan. 13. A year ago the index was $6.51.

President Truman's request for modified price and ration controls brought a quick retort from the American Meat Institute that controls would not increase the aggregate supply of meat by one single pound. Producers would be discouraged by controls and there would be less meat than ever, the Institute said.

But the attorney for the New York retail appeasers association rejected predictions of food price increases in the next six months as "speculative" rumors and spurious. He said all food trends indicate further price increases and "our members will welcome price control."

Production of butter, flour and cheese dropped in the week.

It's a Poor Excuse, Judge Says, for Kiss

By The United Press

NEW YORK, July 29—Mrs. Gloria Nappi, 23, said that when she went into a drug store with a couple of her friends, asked the clerk for a [illegible] make it a pineapple, he kissed her.

The clerk, Sidney Miller, 35, said "it must have been the humidity. I didn't know what happened to me."

Magistrate John Starkey told Miller to come back to court next Wednesday with a better reason—or else.

YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

PAIR DIVORCED 30 YEARS MARRY AGAIN

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, July 29. An elderly couple—married 54 years ago and divorced 24 years later—are again man and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Taylor disclosed yesterday that they were remarried in the Dudley Street Baptist church last Nov. 5.

They displayed their second marriage certificate after an argument they had with a neighbor, Mrs. Florence Rogers, 71, was aired in municipal court. The Taylors charged Mrs. Rogers with assault and battery but the case was dismissed by Judge Davis B. Kenney.

Taylor, 79, said he enlisted in the merchant marine while a young man and his wife now 75 divorced him because she thought he "was gone for good."

He said he traveled around for years. He added he served six years as mayor of Delphos, O., and later as a judge in the Ohio community.

Taylor came to Boston in search of his former wife in 1944. He found her a year ago, he said, and they were remarried.

He said he had not married during the 30-year separation. Mrs. Taylor did not say whether she had wed.

WOMAN FINDS HOUSE WAS FUNERAL HOME

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 29—Police investigation of a metal box a housewife found in her basement revealed that her home was a one-time funeral establishment.

Mrs. Evelyn Palmore was cleaning her basement when she spotted a metal box in the corner.

She opened the lid and found a death certificate laying above a small mound of ashes.

The certificate read: "Henry Hedrick, 68, Pittsburgh, Pa., died Sept. 28, 1924 in Allegheny hospital, corruption, autopsy."

The distraught woman hysterically called police who took the box away.

Detectives learned that the Palmore home had formerly been the funeral establishment of P. V. Wetzel who quit the business shortly before his death six years ago.

Local authorities have asked Pittsburgh police to aid in locating the man's relatives.

TAX DEADLINE SET FOR OHIO EMPLOYERS

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, July 29 — Employers subject to the Ohio unemployment compensation law were told today that they have until midnight, July 31, to turn in both their tax reports and payments for the second quarter of 1948

Frank J Collopy, administrator of the bureau of unemployment compensation, said the reports and payments must be postmarked July 31 or earlier to avoid penalties as provided by the Ohio law

Employers covered by the Ohio law are generally those with three or more employes.

Employers exempted from coverage and payment of the unemployment tax are private and parochial schools, charitable institutions, governmental units, those engaged in agriculture and those who employ domestics.

Collopy said employers who do not get their tax reports in by the July 31 deadline will be subject to a $5 penalty fee for each thirty days they are late up to a maximum of $25. Employers who do not get their tax payments in on time will have to pay an interest charge above and beyond their normal tax rate

STATE TO RELOCATE SECTION OF ROADWAY

Project Planned for Route 529 in Richland Twp.

The state highway department will abandon 2,414 feet of the present state route 529 in Richland township and move the roadway south. That portion of the present roadway curve bisecting the Harry J Mautz farm and the William M Haley farm in the vicinity of where county road 164 intersects route 529 will be abandoned. A new curve will be laid with a new bridge erected to replace the present bridge over the creek at a different point in the creek to conform with contours of the new curve. The former roadway will revert to the property owners. The new bridge will be approximately a half mile south from the bridge now being built over Riffle creek by Steward Construction Co. under contract from Marion county.

These plans were announced yesterday by Robert Warner state division engineer of the Delaware division at a public hearing on the road relocation today in common pleas courtroom. Kenneth Graham, state planning engineer of the Delaware division, is acquiring the land for the relocated road and preparing all details of the project. Mr Warner said. Attending the hearing were Carl H Lehner, Luther Mitchell and William Risch, Marion county commissioners, Walter W Johnson, Marion county engineer and Harry J Mautz and William M Haley of Richland township, owners of the property abutting the project.

Suit Filed To Gain Right-of-Way

Earl E Reeb state highway director, today filed actions in common pleas court for easements against Allen G Last, Mildred H Last, and the Marion Rural Electric Cooperative and Albert M Fetter and others.

The actions arise from state efforts to purchase additional land from the Last and Fetter farms to widen a portion of each side of the right-of-way of state route 529 the Marion-Cardington east road in Richland township, for an approach to a bridge to be constructed over Riffle Creek. In his petition Director Reeb charges he offers to purchase the land, 38 hundredths of an acre from each owner were rejected and the easement suit in is being filed by him to have the court determine if an easement shall be granted and what damages shall be paid.

RACE DRIVER DIES

By The Associated Press

WAUSEON, O., July 29—Joel Brigham, 43, Toledo, died today from injuries received Sunday at Fulton county fairgrounds during the first horse race in which he had ever ridden. His horse stumbled and fell into the rail, hurling him into a utility pole. The horse died after the accident.

CRASH SURVIVOR AND VICTIM. Sole survivor of an American B-29 crash into the sea off Aden, Aden protectorate, M Sgt Sigrow Gustafson (left) of Norwood, Mass., says the Superfort plunged into the shark-infested, shallow water for no apparent reason. The big bomber was one of three on a globe-circling junket from Tucson, Ariz. Stanley Fleming (right) of Downey, Cal., pictured as an aviation cadet is believed one of those killed.

HARPSTER SERVICES

Services of worship have been set for Sunday morning at the Little Sandusky and Wyandot churches of the Harpster Methodist charge at 9:30 and 11 respectively. Rev. Fred Ross, pastor announced. There will be no preaching Sunday at the Harpster church, he stated.

2nd Bucyrus Car-Truck Collision Victim Dies

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 29—The death at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in City hospital of John Pfleiderer, 68, brought the death toll to two in the intersection truck-car collision Tuesday afternoon. A third man, Arnold Hiatt, 46, Shelby, remains in City hospital where he underwent amputation of his left arm above the elbow as a result of the accident. Funeral services are being arranged at Shelby for Raymond Zeiters, 32, who was riding with Hiatt. Zeiters died instantly of a broken neck.

Pfleiderer lived 36 hours after receiving a fractured skull, fractured jaw and other injuries.

Sheriff Ralph Schrock said witnesses reported that the truck in which the Shelby men were riding attempted to enter route 30N from county route 9 at a high rate of speed, crashing into the Pfleiderer car which was traveling west on route 30N.

Mintz funeral directors are in charge of funeral arrangements for Pfleiderer.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK July 29—Tobacco company shares ran against downward tendencies in the rest of the stock market today.

Demand for tobacco issues followed announcement by American Tobacco of a boost in its major cigaret brands

Losses elsewhere ran from fractions to around a point but trading was lackadaisical and prices were marked down more as a result of lack of interest than severe selling pressure

Higher by a point or so were American Tobacco, Philip Morris and Liggett & Myers.

On the losing side were Chrysler, U S Steel, National Distillers, Commonwealth Edison, American Smelting, American Can, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), and Gulf Oil.

BERLIN MEMORIAL HONORS U.S. FLIERS

By The Associated Press

BERLIN July 29 — The people of western Berlin have erected a memorial to two American fliers who died last Sunday flying food to the blockaded city

The tablet was built on the spot where Lt Charles H King of Britton, S D, and Lt Robert W Stuber of Arlington Calif crashed Each left a widow and child at Wiesbaden

The plaque was placed in the apartment house which the C-47 cargo plane struck It is decorated with flowers and bears these words

"Two American fliers here became sacrifices of the blockade of Berlin You gave your lives for us Berliners of the western occupation sectors will never forget you We stand deeply moved at this spot which has been dedicated through your deaths Once we were enemies, yet you now gave your lives for us We are now doubly in your debt"

Berlin groups are collecting funds for the fliers families The Women's Union of West Berlin arranged an outdoor memorial service for next Sunday

HOW CUT IN SALES TAX WILL OPERATE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, July 29 — The one-cent sales tax reduction which becomes effective after midnight Saturday night will permit you to buy a 40-cent lunch without paying the present one penny tax.

But if your lunch or any other taxable article costs 41 cents you still have to pay two cents tax. The two cents tax will apply up to and including a 70 cents purchase.

If your purchase is more than 70 cents up to and including $1.05 cents the tax still will be three cents the same as now.

From then on the brackets become regular. That means $1.06 to $1.40 will carry a four cent tax; $1.41 to $1.75 a five cent tax and from $1.76 to $2.08 a six cent tax.

Taxable articles costing more than $2.08 will pay the same sales tax as you have been paying. The one cent reduction applies only to the first five cents of your first dollar spent.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

When the Mouth Is Inflamed.

STOMATITIS merely means inflammation of the mouth and, since inflammation may be due to anything from the irritation of hot foods to the action of germs treatment is of little avail until the cause is found.

Among the most frequent causes of stomatitis are injuries to the mouth's lining membrane or to the tongue from decayed teeth, tartar on the teeth and improper care of the mouth. As I said before the use of over-hot foods or liquids may also be responsible or the condition may be brought on by the swallowing of chemical substances such as strong acids or alkalies.

In those cases where the condition is due to the teeth of course the services of a dentist are required.

Where chemicals or hot foods are at fault a soft non-irritating diet should be employed. Alcoholic beverages and smoking are forbidden and the patient is given a cleansing, soothing mouth wash such as a mixture of boric acid and glycerine.

Sometimes inflammation of the mouth may follow the use of such drugs as mercury bismuth and gold employed in the treatment of various diseases. The inflammation of the mouth tends to clear up promptly after the drug producing the disturbance is stopped.

Stomatitis may also be caused by infection with germs such as the streptococcus. In one form of this conditions, the infection may be a complication of gonorrhea. In another form, the infection first takes hold in the tonsils and throat, spreading to the roof of the mouth and to the lining membranes of the cheeks. The disorder may be accurately diagnosed by making a culture of the throat.

In this condition also careful treatment of the gums and teeth by a dentist is important to clear out hidden nests or pockets of germs.

Penicillin applied locally in the mouth or given by injection into a muscle may help clear up this type of infection.

Trench mouth is another cause of stomatitis. This disorder as a rule, may be cleared up rapidly by the injection of penicillin into a muscle. Lozenges containing the penicillin may be held in the mouth and may aid in clearing up the condition more quickly.

It is also advised that these patients receive plenty of vitamin B-complex and vitamin C. It is found that some cases may clear up with the vitamin treatment alone.

Questions and Answers

R G Will you please tell me something about the cause and remedy of spasm of the intestine?

Answer Intestinal spasm may be due to a nervous disorder. It occurs in spastic colitis.

A thorough study would be advisable to determine the exact cause in your case. An X-ray of the bowel should be taken to aid in the diagnosis then the proper remedy could be suggested.

New Wonder Drug Gets Field Test in Malaya

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

WASHINGTON, July 29 — On a day last March a U S air ferry plane under special orders put down at an airport near Kuala Lumpur, capital of Malaya

Kuala Lumpur is close to Malaya's rich rubber and palm oil plantations. The area is one of the hotbeds of scrub typhus long a source of fear from Japan northern Australia from the Philippines to India

Out of the plane stepped five American army doctors

Attendants unloaded three jeeps and a couple of tons of laboratory equipment from the plane but one of the doctors held fast to a precious bundle

It contained the world's supply one pound of a newly developed drug called "chloromycetin" (pronounced klore my see tin)

Keep the name in mind for experiments are still under way but even now it appears safe to believe the drug will take its place with penicillin and streptomycin Like penicillin and streptomycin chloromycetin is derived from a mold

Wrapped in that bundle also was the hope of Yankee and Malayan researchers that chloromycetin might prove effective against scrub typhus which kills up to 40 per cent of its victims and for which there had been no really effective treatment

It did and within 48 hours

Cure Typhoid Too

Not only that but quite by accident it was found that chloromycetin also could cure typhoid fever

Transmitted by tiny mites or chiggers which lurk in grassy land near the jungles scrub typhus had been a terror to plantation workers cowherds, bullock cart drivers laborers on railways During the last war it struck some 25 000 allied troops including 6,000 Americans in Pacific and Asiatic areas

Results were the same in the 40 odd cases temperatures normal in an average of 31 hours one of the usual complications not a single death

And

While treating two scrub typhus suspects Dr Theodore Woodward of the University of Maryland one of the Yankee team noticed something strange

Then fever was checked all right but it took three days

Further blood tests were made

The patients had fever all right but it wasn't scrub typhus It was typhoid

And the wonder of it was that the fever had been conquered in three days whereas typhoid normally rages as long as 40 or 50 days in areas like Malaya

Nine more cases of typhoid were treated The three day cures held up

Later three more cases were treated in Baltimore, Md Results were the same conference with officials from three Ohio counties where Daniels is wanted on murder charges

Attending the conference were Prosecuting Attorney Theodore Lutz and Sheriff Frank Robinson of Richland county Prosecutor Ralph J Bartlett of Franklin county and officials from Seneca county

A closed hearing on disposition of the prisoner was held at the judge's office Officials of the counties demanding custody left it up to Judge McNeill to decide the matter He immediately decided that Richland county had first claim

Police Sergeant Leonard D Conn of Van Wert was wounded critically in stopping Daniels and his fellow killer John C West Van Wert county authorities had insisted upon holding Daniels until the outcome of Conn's wounds was clear The policeman was reported recovering and out of danger today

Daniels will be tried at Mansfield for the triple slaying of John Nisbet Mansfield reformatory farm superintendent his wife and daughter The killers left their nude bodies in a cornfield near Mansfield

Daniels and West were wanted in Seneca county for the slaying of James Smith and Orville Taylor during the last night of their murder orgy

Franklin county authorities wanted to try Daniels at Columbus for the murder of Earl C Ambrose, a tavern owner last July 10 The parolees started their killing spree by slaying Ambrose during a robbery

Meanwhile civil actions for damages were filed in common pleas court here against Daniels by Sergeant Conn and Game Warden Frank Friemoth who also was wounded in the gun battle at the roadblock Both demanded damages and reimbursement for hospital expenses

Suit was filed in probate court to have the estate of the dead fugitive West administered in Van Wert county

GOP Radio Talks Rip Truman Session Program

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 29—Republican leaders launched a heavy air attack last night against President Truman's special session program calling it unnecessary obviously political and possibly dangerous.

GOP rivefighters rushed for radio microphones to slam the President's action in calling congress back to Washington and to explain why they probably won't do much about his anti-inflation and housing proposals

Senator Taft of Ohio chairman of the senate Republican policy committee Senator Wherry of Nebraska, acting majority leader House Majority Leader Halleck of Indiana and Reps Dirksen of Illinois and Keefe of Wisconsin all took turns at the ether barrage last night

House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts and a GOP senator to be named later were due to step up to the microphones tomorrow night (ABC, 9 30 EST)

Says Adjournment Warranted

Taft set the tone for the Republican attack when he said angrily We would be fully justified in adjourning at once

But he added that since the Democrats apparently don't intend to use the power they already have to check inflation congress will stick around for two weeks to see what it can do One thing it won't do he said, is approve price control rationing or other steps he called police state' measures

"An administration which has been in power for 16 years cannot escape the results of its own actions' Taft declared 'It has the power to check inflation we may grant additional powers — but the only real recourse of the people against inflation is at the election

Taking the gadget from the Oscar Wherry started repeatedly to candidate Truman who he said is floundering in the quicksands of a ruined political future

No Emergency Request

Congress was ready to rush emergency legislation said Wherry but the President didn't ask for any

"It is appalling" he snapped that on foreign policy the President was absolutely silent and not once did he mention the threat of communism at home Turning to inflation, he Nebraska senator declared

"The only solution a President offers is more controls and more controls and regimentation of the people

The President has a defeatist attitude He has no faith in the free enterprise system and the ability of the American people to produce and distribute their goods

The house Republicans also blasted away at the President's proposals for controlling inflation

We are not going to [illegible] production increase [illegible] prosperity [illegible] and wreck progress by setting the [illegible] on a [illegible] expedient said Halleck

Keefe appearing on a radio [illegible] with Rep Kefauver (D Tenn) said tighter money control [illegible] are needed to halt [illegible] costs The causes of the inflation he added are found in an excess money supply and too much bank credit

Directly or indirectly another broadcast aid Mr Truman 'recommended more expenditure and more credit which is like trying to put out the fire by throwing gasoline on it'

Robin Responsible For Shenandoah Cherries

By the United Press

LURAY Va—According to legend the birds in the Shenandoah Valley will never starve and its fruit growers will prosper because of a robin

The robin according to the old tale flew over Massanutten mountain with a cherry stone in its beak In a lonely gorge of the mountain, the bird dropped the stone

From that stone the legend goes, a cherry tree grew It was the first of all the many orchards of cherry trees in the valley

The tree is still bearing fruit A massive and grotesque tree it has been picked nearly clean this summer by the birds and curio-seeking tourists

The name Guatemala means land of the trees

BOY SCOUT BOXERS IN LEGION SHOW

Troop Members Stage Exhibition Matches at Meeting.

An amateur boxing show was staged by several members of Troop 5, Boy Scouts, sponsored by Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, for members of the Legion post at the post regular meeting Tuesday night in the gymnasium at South High street.

They presented two bouts of three rounds each with each bout lasting two minutes. No decisions were given.

Taking part in the first bout were Robert Rinnert and James Warner, and in the second bout were Jack Selzinger and Jack Peak. The Selzinger boy boxes in the Golden Gloves tournament held here each year.

John H. Moore, commander, was in charge of the meeting during which reports were given and plans made to attend the department convention to be held Aug. 7-8-9 in Columbus. Frank Bowman reported on members of the post who are sick. John V. Rush, first vice commander, gave a final report on the post membership contest and stated that membership in the post now totals 473.

Jewell L. Ralston, a member of the Junior Legion baseball committee, gave a report on activities of the Junior Legion baseball team sponsored by the post and announced that the team will enter the state finals Monday of next week.

Chester Myers, 40 et 8 locomotive-bones; committee chairman, announced to the members that the locomotive and boxcar will leave the courthouse here Friday, Aug. 6, at 6:30 p. m. to go to the state convention in Columbus. Any Legion members who would like to go to the convention in the boxcar are to contact Police Chief William E. Marks, chef de gare of the 40 et 8, and make necessary arrangements with him.

At the next post meeting, Aug. 10, installation of newly elected post officers for 1948 will be held. D. J. MacDonald, Sixth district vice commander, will be in charge of the installation.

LIONS SPONSOR SALE IN MEMORIAL DRIVE

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 29—A community sale for the benefit of the Wyandot Memorial hospital to be constructed here when materials become available will be staged by the Lions club of Upper Sandusky, Saturday, August 21 on the vacant lot at the corner of Wyandot avenue and Walnut street.

Donations of any kind of saleable articles will be sought by club members for the sale and the full proceeds will be given to the hospital fund.

Articles for sale may also be consigned to the Lions for sale on a per cent basis with the commission on these also to be donated to the hospital.

Club members will make a house to house canvass in the week preceding the sale making plans for the auction on either a gift or commission basis, money for the fund, or special equipment for use in the hospital.

MORRILL HITS SNAG ON DRILL

College Paper Opposes Revival of Compulsory Military Training.

At the University of Minnesota where a former Marion man, Dr J L. Morrill, is president, an old battle cry is being reechoed by the student newspaper, the Minnesota Daily

"Down with compulsory drill," is the cry, the United Press reported in a dispatch from Minneapolis.

The Daily led an anti-ROTC fight during the pacifist movement of the 1930s and issued a triumphant "extra" edition on graduation day, 1934, when the board of regents abolished compulsory military training

Since that time the university has had a reserve officers training unit, but participation in any part of the four-year course is elective

But a recent suggestion by the university president, Dr Morrill, that compulsory training be renewed has brought rumblings of the old battles

Arguments Rejected

Dr Morrill told the regents he believed lack of a program denied students the right to obtain commissions and failed to permit the school to do its duty to the country in case of war

The student leaders of the anti-drill fight in 1934 are gone from the campus now, of course, but the new editors were quick to take up the old standard

The arguments "don't stand up too well," the Daily said. "There is a voluntary program for anyone eligible to get into it. No one is being denied anything on that score."

The Daily added that official Army reports showed that the three-month officer candidate school produced officers "far superior" to those of college and university ROTC programs.

Victory in 1934

The 1934 decision to abolish the compulsory program was a big victory for the newspaper Earlier, when feeling ran high on the campus, it had been forbidden to say anything about drill sessions

One of the students, now a Minneapolis attorney, had close to a straight "A" average in studies, but balked at attending drill A military tribunal suspended him for failure to attend, but the student, years later a voluntary enlistee in the Army Air Force and now a reserve captain, was reinstated by President Lotus D Coffman

The Daily fought President Coffman in 1934 as it is opposing Dr. Morrill now One peace demonstration was held on the auditorium steps after Coffman denied the use of the auditorium to the demonstrators Nearly 4,000 students cheered as Gov Floyd B Olsen denounced compulsory drill

The present dispute has not reached serious stages, but the Daily has said that any further steps toward reinstituting drill may bring a new eruption of the bitter fight

Americans use enough waxed paper every year to encircle the globe 500 times with a strip one foot wide.

Drape Grange Charter In Honor of W. T. Owen

Two applications for membership were read and the charter was draped in memory of W. T Owen at a meeting of Progressive Grange Tuesday night in the Grange hall. C M Gorby, master, presided

Plans were made to hold an ice cream social, open to the public Aug 11 at the Grange hall. An announcement was made that the Grange will present a program at Martel Grange meeting Aug 10 and the next meeting of Preserve Grange will be Aug 17 Plans were made to have a display at the Marion County fair A Pomona meeting will be held Saturday night, Aug. 7, at Whetstone Grange hall and each family is to take a pie and sandwiches

For the program, pertaining to safety, group singing of songs on the subject was held, members answered roll call with a safety hint or fact a poem, "Odd Accidents" was given by Mrs Clifford McMahan and Mrs John Shelton and son, Dean, visitors from Grand Prairie Grange, presented a number of piano duets and Dean gave a piano solo

Grange Makes Plans For Booth at Fair

Plans for a booth at the Marion county fair were made by United Grange Tuesday night at the Clardon school. Dr Frederick T Merchant of Marion spoke and showed motion pictures on cancer During a social hour a miscellaneous shower was given for Mr and Mrs Edwin Messinger married recently Committees for the fair booth were appointed It was announced that at the next meeting, a house judgment contest, on the garments made by women of the Grange and brought for display there, will be held. Refreshments were served by Mr and Mrs Kenneth Foos, Mr and Mrs. Ralph Bauer and Mr and Mrs George Bauer.

MILLIONAIRE KILLED IN CAR

Poker Pals of Manufacturer Questioned in Murder Probe.

By The United Press

CHICAGO, July 29—Detectives today questioned poker pals of Nathan Gumbin, millionaire paper manufacturer who was murdered by gunmen last night as he drove home for his 50th birthday party.

Gumbin, part owner of the General Fiber company and the General Carton company, had just left his office near the stockyards district with his son Owen 19 when he was killed.

As he stopped his limousine at a red light a car bearing two men swung alongside. One man shouted and thrust a shotgun through the window of the murder car. Gumbin turned just in time to catch the full blast of the gun in his face. The shot all most tore his head off.

Owen seated beside his father was unhurt.

Check Gambling Record

The killer's car swung into traffic. Policeman James Webster driving in front of Gumbin's car, chased the assassins but was outdistanced.

Coroner A. L. Brodie learned that Gumbin played high-stake poker with friends and business acquaintances. His wife, the former Blossom Bath of Austin, Tex., said he had lost as much as $3,500 in a single night.

Police were seeking to learn whether he had ever played against any of Chicago's big time professional gamblers connected with the underworld "syndicate." If so, Brodie said, Gumbin may have been fleeced on a crooked deal and refused to pay resulting in his murder.

The Chicago Sun and Times in a copyrighted story, said it was "informed" that Gumbin probably was slain by the syndicate—but not because of gambling.

The newspaper said it learned Gumbin was in the grip of the underworld's labor racketeers who were exhorting huge sums from him to [illegible] his plant.

[illegible] a result the hoodlums may have tried to raise their protection fees. If Gumbin refused to pay he may have been killed as a lesson to others, the paper said.

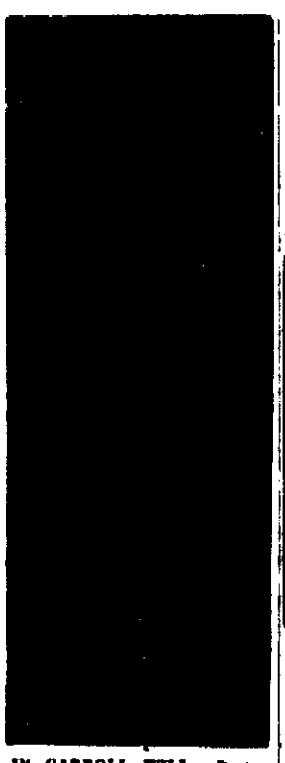
No Motive for Crime

Detectives also were checking whether Gumbin was involved in grey market operations during the war, it was [illegible].

Gumbin a well-built handsome man appeared much younger than his actual age. Besides Owen the Gumbins have another son, Jack 24.

None of the family could give a motive for the murder. Mrs. Gumbin was hysterical. Police could learn little from her other than that she and Jack were at home waiting for Gumbin to take them out for a gala evening of night-clubbing to celebrate his birthday at the time he was killed.

At a small plant celebration in his honor just a few minutes before he was killed Gumbin had told plant employes that he didn't have an enemy in the world.



Committee of Club Maps Year's Program

Programs for the year were mapped when program coordination committee of the Business and Professional Women's club, composed of chairmen of standing committees met at the home of Miss Evelyn Hazen of 150 Baker street Wednesday night. Miss Hazen is a vice president of the club and head of the coordination committee. Present to assist with the planning was Miss LaVern Lash, new president, whose term of office began with the start of the new club year July 1. An outline for the monthly dinner meetings of the club was made with each committee assigned its particular month to serve and program suggestions for each month were considered. It is planned to secure printed programs for the year to be distributed to members. Following adjournment Miss Mary K. Miley, past president and chairman of the community service committee, was presented as a remembrance from a personal friend decorated with lighted candles in honor of her birthday anniversary.

IN CARROLL WILL. Designated as chief beneficiary and estate executor in the will of the late Earl Carroll, famed showman who was killed in a plane crash, Mrs. Jessie L. Schuyler, using cane leaves a Hollywood courtroom. She is to receive half of his corporation stockholdings. The will disposed of an estate valued at over $1,000,000.

Police Arrest Man On Shoplifting Charge

James Herman Jones 46 of 822 Kenton avenue was arrested by city police at 11:21 a. m. yesterday on a charge of shoplifting. Women's clothing from W. T. Grant department store. He [illegible] to appear in municipal court tomorrow.

Jones pleaded not guilty to [illegible] disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. It is his fourth arrest on a shoplifting charge.

Robert L. Murphy of 360 Chestnut street was fined $15 and costs by municipal court today for reckless operation of an automobile. He was arrested at 4:30 a. m. this morning [illegible] Main street [illegible] Fire Department Alliance was also fined $15 and costs by municipal court.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Doyle of Caledonia To Observe Event.

A family dinner at noon and open house in the afternoon and evening Sunday will celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Doyle of Caledonia. The couple whose anniversary falls on Monday Aug. 2 will receive their friends between the hours of 2 and 4 and 7 and 9 o'clock.

The celebrants have spent 44 years of their married life in the home in which they will celebrate Sunday. Mr. Doyle has spent most of this time engaged in the poultry egg and cream business. He also has devoted many years to the development in the vicinity of this home a business in which he still is active.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Doyle are members of the United [illegible] church. Mrs. Doyle before her marriage was Miss Margaret F[illegible] Fuhrman of Ashland county. Mr. Doyle is a native of Marion county and was born in the Caledonia community.

They are the parents of two sons R. H. and L. L. Doyle of Caledonia and have two grandchildren, Lowell Charles and Rosemary Doyle.

SERVICES AT MISSION

Arrangements are being made for special services beginning Aug. 4 at the Silver Street mission. Rev. James Carroll of Caruthers, Calif., formerly of Marion and founder of the mission will return for the five [illegible] day meeting. The final day [illegible] Aug. 8 [illegible] Rev. OHIO YOUTH DROWNED

By The Associated Press

COSHOCTON [illegible] Harold Lee [illegible] O., drowned last night when a boat in which he was riding capsized in Rocky Fork lake. His brother John, 17, and a companion, Robert Gooch, 18, ran into rough water and upset 300 feet from Robbins landing. Lee was unable to swim. The others reached the overturned craft and hung on until help arrived.

One oil company is teaching 4-H clubbers in its area how to maintain repair and operate powered farm machinery.

News Dispatches Not Censored, Says Ohioan Heading Prague AP Bureau

By Brush-Moore News Service

STEUBENVILLE, July 29 — There is no censorship of news dispatches leaving Czechoslovakia Foreign correspondents may write what they please, but must answer to the government for anything that might displease the Czechs, A. I. Goldberg chief of bureau for The Associated Press Bureau in Prague said on his return to his home town here this week.

Mr. Goldberg joined The Associated Press 15 years ago going to that news gathering organization's bureau in Columbus, O., from The Steubenville Herald Star, a member paper of Brush-Moore Newspapers Inc. He was assigned as a war correspondent to the London bureau of the Associated Press in August, 1943 and from that assignment he followed American troops across France and Germany into Italy and Austria.

Revealed Goering Story

(After the war he was the correspondent who revealed that Hermann Goering chief of the German Luftwaffe, was getting a special chicken and creamed peas diet as a prisoner of the Allies in Austria The revelation created such a sensation that Army officials imposed restrictions for a time on news dispatches of all foreign correspondents

Although the Prague bureau, where Mr Goldberg is now chief, is the eastern-most landline connection of The Associated Press in Europe deep in the heart of the 'iron curtain' area he estimated that a news dispatch telegraphed from there could be on the Associated Press wires in Ohio six minutes later

Regarding the Czechoslovakian press Mr Goldberg reported it was always non-critical of Russia but very critical of the domestic government

Believe Masaryk Killed Self

Questioned about reports that Jan Masaryk had been killed Mr Goldsberg said he had no doubt the son of the former president had ended his own life. There is still mystery, he said, surrounding the reasons for the leap.

All sorts of guarantees of religious freedom have been made by the Communists, Mr Goldberg said Catholics are permitted to operate their own parochial schools and an hour for religious instruction is permitted in public schools

Strict rationing, drastic price controls, land reforms and nationalization of industry are the key features of the program instituted by the Communist government under Premier Gottwald, Mr Goldberg said.

Mr Goldberg returned to Steubenville this week for a visit with his parents, Mr and Mrs. Nathan Goldberg, because of the critical illness of his father. He expects to return to his post in Prague by the end of August.

His wife, the former Miss Victoria Beebe of Steubenville, and their two sons, Joel, 13 and Ethan, 8, with Mrs. Madge Beebe, Mrs. Goldsberg's mother, are now living in Prague.

OHIO HOMESTEADERS FORM ASSOCIATION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O., July 29—Ohio farmers had a new organization today—the Buckeye Homestead association.

Some 500 farm families across the state became charter members of the new organization at its first meeting yesterday on the Ohio State university campus.

The members are former borrowers from the farmers' home administration They have made full repayment of farm ownership loans secured since the start of the program in 1938 The federal agency was set up to help farmers who cannot otherwise obtain credit to buy farms Loans issued by the agency carry a 40-year repayment schedule.

Dana Richardson of Wapakoneta was elected president of the association Other officers include Elmer Cornell, Big Prairie, (Holmes county), vice president, Mrs Carlos Achor, New Vienna (Clinton county), secretary-treasurer, and executive committee members George DeVore, Millersburg, (Holmes county), Raymond, Haines, Sabina, (Clinton county), Arthur Burns, Fostoria, and Eugene Metz, McComb (Hancock county).

"This is the first such state organization," said Richardson, "in this part of the country—actually the third in the nation."

Referendum Asked On Union Heads' Pay Hike

By The Associated Press

EAST LIVERPOOL, O, July 29—The national labor relations board will be asked to hold a referendum of 28,000 members of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters on the heated question of salaries for two top officials, unionists reported today

Union members, who opposed alleged "unauthorized" pay boosts for the officials, said they would hold subordinate polls among unionists Monday to prepare for an NLRB referendum.

Five unionists recently filed an injunction petition in Columbiana county common pleas court against James M Duffy, Brotherhood president, and Charles F Jordan, secretary-treasurer, asking that their salaries be returned to previous levels

A court decision reduced weekly salaries for Duffy and Jordan to $161 and $131, respectively, but the Brotherhood's national convention restored the salary rates at $294 and $207 a week, subject to a vote of unionists.

EX-OFFICIAL INDICTED

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, O., July 29—Willard Simonton, suspended superintendent of the Athens county home, was indicted yesterday by a special session of the grand jury on nine counts charging assault and battery on inmates at the home for the infirm The Athens county commissioners on July 16 suspended Simonton for 30 days At that time Prosecuting Attorney Gordon B Gray said the suspension was the start of a civil service investigation of alleged mistreatment of inmates.

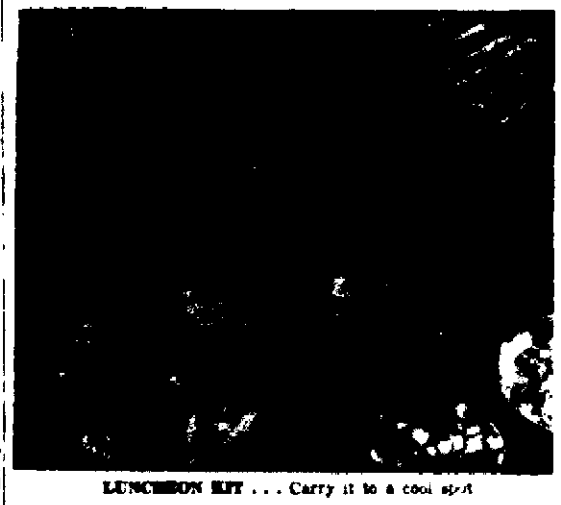
Picnic Lunches Hit Spot



LUNCHEON KIT . . . Carry it to a cool spot

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you want to make the rest of the summer easier for yourself serve warm-weather picnic lunches at noon Prepared quickly and tucked into a picnic basket or arranged on a tray, your family can pick them up out of the kitchen and carry them to the coolest spot. Paper plates containers and napkins will do away with after-lunch dishwashing, too

Since I am a great sandwich eater I am always looking for new fillings to put into them. Some of the most original ones I've tasted are served at an attractive little sandwich bar in New York where the food has a "homemade" taste Here are three of the many combinations that I've tried lately.

Roquefort cheese and watercress . . . this is a snappy, delicious combination, good on whole wheat or thin rye bread.

American cheddar cheese and chopped tomato . . . snappy, too, and good A little well-seasoned salad dressing adds to this combination The bar serves it on Spinach bread, the green-speckled slices pretty with the gold of the cheese and the orange-red of the tomato.

Egg mushroom and celery . . . chopped finely and moistened with mayonnaise this is delectable I ring changes in it, however by adding a sauteed chopped chicken liver or two saved out from a fryer dinner!

Summer Vegetable . . . this may be made from a combination of every raw vegetable imaginable—shredded carrots cabbage lettuce or romaine, celery, and of course, scallions Either French dressing or mayonnaise is good with it.

Cooked vegetable salads are fine for pick-up lunches Here are recipes for two especially good ones from "Favorite Recipes of Wellesley Alumnae" compiled by Wellesley-in-Westchester, for the 75th Anniversary Fund of Wellesley College If you like informal recipe collections by homemakers you'll find this one worth having It may be obtained from Wellesley-in-Westchester, Post Office Box 508 Scarsdale New York, and is $2.00 per copy postpaid

Hot Green Bean Salad

Cook 1 pound young green beans, cut in thin diagonal slices Fry 2 small slices bacon until crisp. Fry a few sliced onions until tender but not brown Add bacon and onions to beans Add 3 tablespoons vinegar to bacon fat, heat and pour over hot beans Toss and serve immediately (Also good served cold)

Cauliflower Salad

Cook cauliflower until just tender Break in pieces While still warm marinate in French dressing Crush 2 pepper cubes and 2 chicken bouillon cubes add 2 tablespoons vinegar 6 tablespoons salad oil 1 teaspoon salt Just before serving add cauliflower and shredded lettuce Mix well

And here is a rich-as-Croesus Brownie from the cookbook it is an addition to any kind of lunch You'll find it delicate to handle after it's baked because it's so rich and tender but oh, how delectable to taste!

Wellesley Brownies

One cup sugar 2 eggs beaten, ½ cup flour 2 squares chocolate, ½ cup butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup walnut meats

Add sugar to eggs Sift in flour Melt chocolate with butter and add Mix well Add vanilla and nuts Spread about ¼ inch thick in square pan Bake at 350 degrees F for 25 to 30 minutes Cool Cut in squares (If pastry flour is used butter may be decreased to 1 3 cup)

PUBLISH RESEARCH WORK OF OSU MAN

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, July 29 — Research work by an Ohio State university chemist which recognized ancient formulas used by ancient pottery-makers and traced a modern ceramic process back to Roman times was published today in the American Journal of Archeology

Dr Earle R Caley's work involved chemical analysis of two glazes—one green and one yellow—on the surfaces of pottery found in excavations at Gozlu Kule Tarsus in southern Turkey

Dr Caley confirmed his research work by preparing and producing in the laboratory glazes having the same composition as those found on the ancient pottery

Lead glazing is widely used today on many modern ceramic products, including most dinnerware but little historical information about this process has been found.

More than 4 000 000 home oil burners now are in use in the United States, all of them placed in service after 1920

CIRCUS AERIALIST WALKS AGAIN. Jeannie Rockwell, who plunged 40 feet from a circus trapeze to floor of Madison Square Garden, where 5 000 spectators screamed, walks for the first time at New York City since the nearly fatal accident May 5 She has spent most of the time since the mishap in Polyclinic hospital

CIGARET PRICES RAISED

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 29—The American Tobacco company has raised the wholesale price of Lucky Strike, Herbert Tareyton and Pall Mall cigarets by seventeenths of a cent a pack effective today Retailers expect the action to result in a one-cent per pack increase for consumers Most brands of cigarets now sell generally in New York for 20 cents a pack, including tax

ANCIENT EGYPT HAD HOROSCOPES ALSO

By The United Press

CAIRO — An ancient Egyptian horoscope dating back to 1300 B.C., or 3,234 years ago, has been sent for reading at an orientalists' conference in Paris.

The horoscope is written on a papyrus scroll eight yards long and seven inches wide. It was translated by Dr Abdul Bakir.

The papyrus, in the form of a calendar, tells ancient Egyptians that each day of the year is favorable for certain actions. It also lists things that should not be done on certain days. The scribe likewise seemed to know the length of every day of the year.

The names of the months are identical with those of the Coptic calendar still in use among Egyptian farmers.

Although a 12-month calendar was in use at the time, the author of the papyrus adds a thirteenth. That means to archaeologists that the ancient Egyptians found it necessary to add one month every few years.

The calendar lists the Nile flood every year, and is known as the festival, which is still celebrated Cutting of the Khalig

BANK DEPOSITS ON INCREASE

Marion, Surrounding Counties Gain with Others in State.

Marion county and other counties in this area have shown a gain in bank deposits during the year 1947 as have other counties in the state, according to a report made by the Federal Reserve System, an Associated Press dispatch said today.

Bank deposits in Ohio totaled $6 339 003 000, which is possibly an all time peak, at the opening of business this year. This figure compares with $6,021,726 000 in 1946 and $5,481,154,000 in 1945.

Deposits in Marion county as of Dec. 31, 1947 in all banks, commercial, mutual savings and other types, totaled $31 533,000. In other counties in this area, total deposits were as follows: Crawford, $21,199,000, Delaware, $13,398,000; Hardin, $17,992 000, Morrow, $5,956,000; Union, $8,-692,000; and Wyandot, $15,756,000.

The total figure represents demand and time deposits of individuals, partnerships and corporations. It does not include municipal, state or federal government deposits.

Demand deposits are chiefly checking accounts. Savings accounts comprise 90 per cent roughly by time deposits.

A spokesman for the Federal Reserve told a reporter that Ohio figures reflect a nationwide increase in deposits that took a big swing upward in the war years and increased further, but at a slower rate, in the postwar era.

There has been some "slowing up" in deposits since the first of the year, he said.

The Ohio figures were made public in a recent Federal Reserve report showing $3 642 587 -000 in demand deposits and $2,-686 316 000 in time deposits.

The summary showed deposits in Cuyahoga (Cleveland) county were the largest in any county in the state, $1,970,842,000. Hamilton county, on the basis of its $788,130,000 in deposits is the second "richest" in the state.

Vinton county, with $2,238,000 in deposits, ranks lowest. Two other low counties are Monroe, with $3 548,000 and Pike, with $3,606,000.

GIFT FOR COLLEGE

By The Associated Press

GAMBIER, O., July 29—Kenyon college has received about $250,000 from the estate of the late William Nelson Cromwell, the college announced yesterday. Cromwell, a lawyer and philanthropist, died in New York City July 10. The college said Cromwell held an honorary LL.D. degree from Kenyon and had made previous gifts to the college.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"WAIT, Olga!" Olga said, as her daughter, in an enthusiasm, was pulling her toward her bedroom, and the "hairdoing."

"That may not be Dicky," she said. "Let us wait and see."

But I released them at the first word which came over the telephone.

"It's Dicky," I said, and the two went into the bedroom, while Mary came close to me with an expectant look on her face.

"Of course it's Dicky," my husband quipped from his end of the wire. "How many other guys did you think I was?"

"Olga was waiting to find out," I said placidly. "She thought perhaps Philip was calling."

"You're forgiven," Dickey said with a chuckle. "Now, how about it? Are you ready to come back and start the hearth fires burning? If you are, I'll come up and escort you down. And, what about Faith?"

"Faith is safe and happy in Katharine's suite," I said.

"But I'm not safe and happy without her," our small daughter's doting father protested.

"Dicky!" I packed all the wifely authority possible into my voice. "Don't you dare disturb Faith! Katharine has promised to keep her busy and happy until I'm ready to have her come back. You'll ruin my plans if you bring her back to the apartment now!"

"Keep your shirt on, old dear!" my husband advised. "Far be it from me to upset your apple cart. But what about you?"

"I'm not ready to come home just yet," I said. "But I need you down here. I'll explain when I see you. Can you come down within the next five minutes?"

"Make it six and a half," he drawled provokingly. "I'll be there. Adios. I've forgotten the right word for darling to go with that, but consider it whispered in your ear."

"I'm cherishing it," I told him. "Good-bye," and I hung up the receiver to find Mary's eyes fixed on mine inquiringly.

"Did he say anything more about the dinner tonight, or the guests?" she asked eagerly, and again I had the conviction that her mind was following mine along a most fantastic lane. But I also knew that it was useless to prod her about it.

"Not a word," I said. "He was chiefly concerned about getting Faith back to the apartment."

"I gathered that from your broadcast on the subject," she said with an impish grin. "When's he coming down?"

"In six and a half minutes, he said," I told her, with an answering smile.

"Wanna bet he'll be the mark at five minutes?" she asked pertly.

"You mean that he will, or no?"

"I'm betting that he will," she said. "You'd have to take the other angle."

"I never bet on your uncle," I said dryly. "He's utterly unpredictable."

"Well, you ought to know," she said. "You've summered and wintered him long enough. But, tell me," she lowered her voice, "what's the plan to get Lisa upstairs while Mother puts the fear of God into my father-in-law on the subject of Neal's being her man?"

"It's a very good one," I said. "I'll tell you all about it."

The knocker sounded, and Mary spread her hands in a gesture of frustration.

"If you only had bet," she said. "I'd have gathered in some shekels. That's Uncle Dickey's special knock."

SUES STRONG ESTATE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 29 — Suit asking $74,366.33, plus interest since 1923, was filed in common pleas court yesterday against Samuel T. Haas, attorney, as executor of the estate of Edward F. Strong, business man and race track operator. The suit was filed by Samuel Ungerleider, New York, who said Strong had made a payment of only $2,500 on his debts to Ungerleider.

Commissioners OK Budget For 1949 in Action Today

Marion county government will spend nearly $55,000 less next year than in 1948.

County commissioners today approved a 1949 budget of $361,406.32 in expenditures as compared to this year's estimated $416,358.08 cost of county government.

The winding up of the current real estate appraisal accounted for the lion's share of the budget cut. Estimated expenditures for real estate appraisal in 1949 are a mere $400 as compared to the $51,500 figure this year.

The rest of the major cuts come in permanent improvements on the county home and agricultural program, down to nothing from $9,000.

See Probable Deficit

Despite the $55,000 cut, however, the 1949 budget will leave as estimated $9,732.35 deficit in the county treasury since the estimated receipts in 1949 will be down nearly $8,500, though representatives of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, who sat in on the budget session this morning expressed the belief that the county probably would get more than it counted on from sales taxes and other hidden taxes and would not be left with nearly as large a deficit as the budget estimated.

The drop in receipts will be felt in the county treasury balance, which will end up with an estimated $71,343.82 this year as compared to an estimated minus $125.63 next year. Cost of the real estate appraisal program was borne to a large extent by the surplus in the treasury.

General property tax will go up an estimated $7,000 next year as a result of the reappraisal of real estate values.

Salary Increases

Salary hikes authorized by legislature will increase the estimated expenditures in several departments of the county government, including the county commissioners, auditor's, treasurer's recorder's, prosecuting attorney's common pleas court's, clerk of court's, and sheriff's, but the biggest percentage jump will be in the expenditures for soldier's relief, up $4,000 from $16,000 and for state examinations, up $1,200 from $300.

County Commissioners Carl H. Lehner chairman, William Risch and Luther J. Mitchell approved the budget after discussion with representatives of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce and local officials.

E. W. Smerringer, Ira M. Horst and David Blum, all from Columbus, attended the meeting in the commissioner's office from the Ohio C. of C. and others present were Hugh E. Webster secretary of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, Maurice C. Clements, county auditor, Clifford P. Swisher, deputy auditor, James Reed, prosecuting attorney, and Robert F. Mason president of the Marion Chamber of Commerce. All the C. of C. representatives found the budget satisfying.

MARION LIMA RESUME FIGHT AT 8 TONIGHT

Renew Battle for Basement After 2-Day Rest.

The Ohio-Indians league farm hands of the last place Chicago Cubs in the National league and the cellar dwelling Chicago White Sox in the American league resume their battle for the bottom of the class D circuit at Lima ball park tonight after a two-day rest because of the annual O-I loop All Star game Tuesday.

Marion's Cubs will be out to protect their seventh place standing and the Lima Terriers will be out to catch the Bruins when they meet at 8 p. m. on the local diamond.

The two clubs met at Lima last weekend preceding the All Star game and the Terriers came out on top in two of the three contests to cut Marion's lead over them to two games.

Marion, however, still has the edge in the past series between the two ball clubs, having won seven of the 12 meetings.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press

UTICA, N. Y.—Willie Pep, 131, Hartford, Conn., knocked out Young Junior, 133½, Springfield, Mass., 1 (non-title).

NEW YORK (Jamaica Arena)—Bill Berman, 168½, Paterson, N. J., outpointed Bobby Jefferson, 170½, Brooklyn, 8.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. — Henry Brimm, 157½, Buffalo, outpointed Leroy Coleman, 157, Lodi, N. J., 8.

Asks Cuyler Replace O'Neill as Tiger Pilot

By The Associated Press

SAGINAW, Mich., July 29—Petitions urging appointment of Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler as manager of the Detroit Tigers in place of Steve O'Neill will begin circulating in three cities Friday.

George Killmaster, Chesaning High school athletic director, said he would start the petitions here, in Chesaning and in Flint.

Killmaster is a native of Harrisville, Mich., home town of Cuyler.

The man he backs for Tiger manager was a star major league outfielder for Pittsburgh, the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati over a 13-year span. He is now managing Atlanta in the South association.

Killmaster said he assumed O'Neill's contract will not be renewed in 1949.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

Batting—George McQuinn, Yankees—Drove in three runs with a double in New York's 4-0 win over St. Louis.

Pitching—Dizzy Trout, Tigers—Stopped Boston's 13-game winning streak with six-hit shutout, 13-0.

FINISHES 9TH AFTER SPIN

Bob James, driver of car No. 61 at Berea last Sunday, went into a spin in the 20-lap feature race and after losing two laps did a nice job of driving to recover his lost distance and finish ninth. The racer is owned by Jim Boyd and sponsored by Eddie Steel, Inc., Ford Service. James will drive No. 61 in the races at Norwalk next Sunday.

Brooklyn Has Won 11 of 15 Games, New York 9 of 14 Since Change

By The Associated Press

The Burt Shotton-Leo Durocher managerial shakeup is proving a tonic to both the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants.

Since kindly old Burt replaced Leo at Ebbets Field, the Dodgers have swept 11 of 15 starts. Under the fiery Durocher, the Giants have won nine of 14 games.

Brooklyn's surge toward the top of the National league has been the most exciting news in the circuit. Even before the change, the Dodgers were rolling. Now the count is 20 won and six lost since that dark evening July 2 when they were stretched on the cellar floor.

The Brooks made friends and influenced people in Flatbush by thumping the Cards yesterday, 2-4, dropping St. Louis into a third place tie with the surging Giants. Brooklyn remains 8½ games behind first place Boston.

All Hit Safely

Every regular hit safely in the attack, that included Tommy Brown's second homer of the season. The young third sacker, who rode the bench in early season, has been an important cog in recent Brooklyn victories.

The Giants, who are supposed to have no pitching, got their second straight shutout against Cincinnati as Clint Hartung blanked the hapless Reds with three hits, 5-0. Larry Jansen spoiled the whitewash the night before.

Close observers of box scores probably were astonished to note the name Walker Cooper in the stolen base column. But it was true. The slow-footed Giant catcher hustled over to second while Herm Wehmeier took his windup. Another incident that does not show in the box was Johnny Mize scoring from first on Willard Marshall's double. The home-run-hitting Mize never has been noted for his speed afoot.

Vern Bickford, now the league's top pitcher on a won and lost percentage basis, weathered two shaky innings to hurl the Boston Braves to an 8-2 victory over Pittsburgh. For Bickford it was win No. 7 against two defeats.

Phils Win for Sawyer

Eddie Sawyer's Phillies won their first game for their new manager, 9-4, over the Chicago Cubs who spoiled Sawyer's debut Tuesday. Peanuts Lowrey, Clyde McCullough and Rube Walker hit their first homers of the season for the Cubs. Del Ennis, Eddie Miller and Andy Seminick for the Phils.

The Boston Red Sox' winning streak finally ended at 13 as Detroit's Dizzy Trout applied the breaks, 13-0. There was no doubt about this one after the first two innings, when the Tigers ran up an 8-0 lead, knocking out Danny Galehouse.

Philadelphia topped Cleveland, 4-3, on a fly ball that bounced off the head of the Indians' centerfielder, Larry Doby.

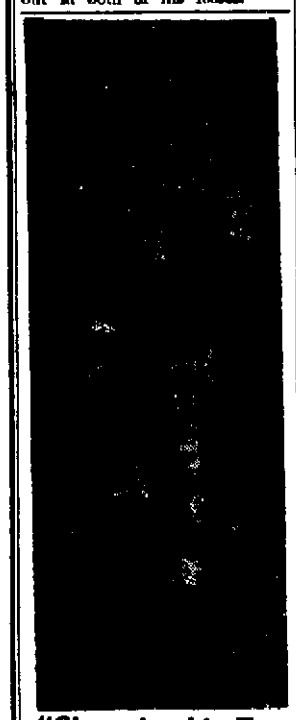
Frank Shea, a New York problem child, needed help from Allie Reynolds in the ninth to blank St. Louis, 4-0. The Browns had only three hits, but Shea was yanked when he walked two with nobody out in the last inning.

Marino Peretti, pint-sized Chicago hurler, performed his specialty—beating his old Washington mates — as the White Sox made it two in a row over the Senators by the same 2-1 score.

"STINGY" QUINN

By The Associated Press

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Frank Quinn, the stellar hurler of Yale's eastern collegiate champs, hurled eight league games, seven of them complete, and finished the loop campaign with the amazing earned run average of .926. Quinn gave up seven runs in 68 innings, but even while giving up less than a run a game to his opponents, he lost two games. Yale was shut out in both of his losses.



"Championship Tag Match Tonight"

Irish McGee and Jack Terry will have their hands full tonight when they meet Danny Savage and Rod Fenton in what should be the best tag team match seen here. The combination of Savage and Fenton won the tag title in Toledo after defeating all teams. The main attraction will be two hours or two out of three falls. The two thirty-minute matches before the main go will put Danny Savage against Jack Terry and Irish McGee against Rod Fenton.

Even the kids will have a tag team match for their prelim at 8:30. James Stewart and Bob Decker take on the team of Marion Shaw and Dick Deuce. Prices 50-75-1.00. Call 2745 after six for reservations.—Adv.

STRANAHAN WINS OHIO OPEN TROPHY

Toledoan Finishes 6 Strokes Ahead of Field.

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., July 29—The 1948 Ohio open golf championship trophy snuggled handle-to-handle today with the British and Canadian amateur baubles—in the Toledo home of big-muscled Frank Stranahan.

The 26-year-old spark-plug millionaire sewed up the state open yesterday with a 72-hole total of 279 over the rolling yardage of Sylvania country club, six strokes ahead of the nearest competitor.

Veteran Billy Burke of Cleveland, former U. S. Open champ and three-time winner of the Ohio Open crown, chased Stranahan with a vigor befitting a man years his junior—but he couldn't hold the pace. He finished with 285 strokes.

Young Mr. Stranahan, who carded only 139 strokes for the first 36 holes, added a 69-71 yesterday in the stretch for a winning score that was five blows better than the 284 with which Byron Nelson won the same event at Sylvania eight golf seasons ago.

Nine Up on Par

And the 279-stroke total was nine strokes better than par over Sylvania's 6,700 well-trapped yards.

Burke had a 71-70 for yesterdays' work—plus the $1,000 first prize for professionals.

Four strokes behind Burke, a post worth $400, came Denny Shute of Akron, the veteran stylist who turned in a 142-72-75—289. Phil Perkins of Cleveland, former British amateur winner, picked up $250 as third pro with a 290, while Ted Huge of Cleveland racked up a 291 and collected $150.

Second low amateur was John Nowack of Cleveland, the public links ace. He also hit 291. Ollie Kay of Toledo and Pete Dye of Urbana tied for third with 297.

Leaves for Buffalo

Young Stranahan, shortly after he dropped the last putt, climbed into an airplane heading for Buffalo and the Western Open. Yesterday completed seven consecutive days of tournament golf for the Toledo youth.

Final scores included: Dorsey Nevergall, Lima, 306; John Holtz, Fostoria, 304; Cal Wilson, Bowling Green, 300; Verl Stinchcomb, Portsmouth, 299; Dow Finsterwald, Athens, 299; Jack Stoddard, Bucyrus, 306; Phil Snouffer, Wellston, 305; Pete Dye, Urbana, 297; Andy Mocsary, Salem, 294; Fred Wilt, Findlay, 310; Don Stemple, Lancaster, 306, and Leonard Schmutte, Findlay, 300.

OLYMPIC GAMES OPEN TODAY IN ENGLAND

U. S. Team Confident of Winning Most Events.

By The Associated Press

OLYMPIC STADIUM, WEMBLEY, Eng., July 29—The Olympic games open today in a setting of royal pomp with the powerful United States team supremely confident of winning the greatest share of glory.

At 4 p. m. (10 a. m. EST) King George speaks the solemn ample words that revive Olympic competition after a 12-year lapse and send 5,000 athletes from 59 nations into competition in 17 different sports.

"I proclaim open the Olympic games of 1948 celebrating the 14th Olympiad of the modern era."

A flame, lit on Mount Olympus and sped by runners across Europe and by warships over the seas, will be borne into the stadium seven minutes later to set ablaze the big white Olympic torch that will burn day and night until the games end Aug. 14.

This is the biggest of all Olympic games. The previous record was 42 nations and 3,904 athletes at Berlin in 1936.

Some 80,000 spectators bought tickets for the opening ceremonies in this stadium, which is a converted dog racing track.

Full scale participation in the various sports doesn't start until tomorrow, except for a short swimming program tonight.

Tomorrow brings the finals in the high jump, the 10,000 meter run and the women's discus throw. There will be two series of preliminary heats in the 100 meter dash and 400 meter hurdles and the first round of the 800 meter run.

Competition also starts full blast tomorrow in basketball, fencing, the modern pentathlon, swimming, water polo and wrestling.

Saints Hand Brewers Seventh Straight Loss

By The Associated Press

The hot-and-cold Milwaukee Brewers, who were perched on top in the American Association baseball race a week ago, trailed pace-setting Indianapolis by 4½ games today after extending their losing streak to seven straight last night.

It's either a feast or a famine for the Brewers.

Nick Cullop's Junior World Series champions ran a winning streak up to 12 in a row for the league's best 1948 record two weeks ago before Columbus broke the charm. Last night St. Paul handed Milwaukee its seventh straight loss, 3 to 2, enabling Indianapolis to gain a half game on the runnerup Brewers.

The Indians won a seven-inning opener, 5 to 2 from Columbus, but the Red Birds came roaring back to a 10 to 1 win in the finale. In other games Toledo edged Louisville 5 to 4 and Minneapolis defeated Kansas City, 5 to 2.

SOHIOANS, OSGOOD, O.P.S. WIN GAMES

Ohio Public Service pushed across at least one run in every inning but the fifth to win over Oswalt Plumbing and Heating, 19-11, in one of three Industrial league No. 2 softball games played last night. Cosgrove and Mull got three safeties for Ohio Public Service and five others collected two apiece. Guy who pulled for Oswalt walked six and Mull and Mathias of Ohio Public Service gave up five free passes.

Stuber gave up seven walks and but two basemen but batsmen were in a hitting mood as they trounced Quaker Oats 10 to 6. Ehlen spaced the Sohio attack with four out of five. Johnson started for Quaker Oats but gave way to Smith in the fifth.

Behind the three-hit pitching of Thorpe, Osgood Co. beat Hub Bar and Grill 9-2 with Fernman of Osgood collecting four for four. Thorpe struck out eight and walked but one. Reams and Heales were also big guns in the Osgood attack as they hit safely three out of four times up.

The Commercial Steel vs. Huber Manufacturing contest scheduled for tomorrow has been postponed.

Top Golfers Head For Western Open

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 29—The nation's finest golfers tee off on a wind-swept Bryshaf-Country club layout today in their quest for the 45th annual Western open championship.

Installed as pre-tourney favorite, as usual, was Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., top money winner of the year. Close behind him was Jimmy Palmer of Badin, N. C., the defending titlist.

With $15,000 at stake, the big money pros faced a tricky, 6,800-yard layout, lengthened and toughened for their benefit. A watering system keeps the fairways soft. An almost continuous west wind blows the greens hard and icy.

Best tune-up round reported was a scorching 67, one over the course record and five under par, by Fred Hawkins, a slightly-built youngster from Antioch, Ill.

JUNIOR LEGION "FARM" TEAMS TO MEET FRIDAY

Representatives from each of the four teams comprising the newly formed American Legion farm system will meet with Newt Cunningham, director of the program, at 1:30 p. m. Friday at the American Legion Dugout.

All boys that can represent a complete ball team are also invited. Catcher's equipment and bats and balls are furnished by the Legion.

THE [illegible] evidenced by an [illegible] of Sam Chapman [illegible] Athletics [illegible] Marion [illegible] by statistician Elias has [illegible] as many games as N.L. Anyvoyodic, the [illegible] of the [illegible] one have as high a percentage of games won. The right-hander [illegible] with seven and lost five while Big Al has 13 victories to his credit against eight losses.

But Marchelli's [illegible] has [illegible] a power pitcher [illegible] than any [illegible] pitchers on the staff.

He has pitched 105 innings and given up 53 runs which is an average of about 4.5 per nine-inning game. Al has yielded a little better than six runs a game, Jim Edgar [illegible] at 5.6, Ray Peet 6.7, and Mike Kelly, nine.

THOUGH HIT more liberally than some of the others, Frank more than [illegible] for [illegible] his control. He walked but 31 batters in 105 innings he's pitched—less than three walks per nine-inning game which is mighty good in the Ohio-Indiana league and especially good for a lefty.

One of Frank's wins was a shutout, in two of them he's given up but one run. He has been the victim of two shutouts, once 5-0 and the other time 4-0. Another of his losses was a close 4-3 score and a fourth was 8-6.

Frank won his first start for the Cubs on May 16 when he scattered Newark seven hits but came out on top 2-1. After winning twice more, once in relief, he lost three in a row and entered ex-Manager Zeke Bekeza's doghouse, never to get out while ol' Zeke was at the helm.

HE DIDN'T get a starting assignment again until July 5, after Frank Kristie had taken over the club. On that day he yielded 13 hits but the Cubs slaughtered Lima, 23-8 to end a four-game losing streak. Four days later he shut out Portsmouth 6-0 and in his third start for Kristie last Monday night beat Lima, 6-1.

Unlike Allvoyodic, who has several times won his own ball game with timely hits, though he can't seem to hit for someone else, Marchelli depends on the eight other guys in the lineup for offensive power, but does plenty of fielding for himself. There probably isn't a better pitcher in the league for covering the field around the mound. He's quick as a cat fielding bunts and knows where to throw the ball once he's picked it up.

Marchelli's pitching isn't as fast as Allvoyodic's and Ray Peet's, nor does he have as great an assortment as Edgar and Swede Benson, but with what he's got, he is plenty effective.

The Detroit Tigers were in first place on July 4 only twice in the seven years in which they won American League flags.

TREATS FELLER'S SHOULDER. A. L. Austin, veteran Cleveland, Ohio bonesetter, pauses to light a cigaret (July 28). He said a hardened shoulder muscle is to blame for the poor form this year of Pitcher Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians. He first treated Feller in 1937. (AP Wirephoto)

HARTUNG SHUTS OUT REDS ON THREE HITS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 29—Cincinnati's hapless Redlegs still sought their first run of the eastern swing today as they concluded a three-game series with the New York Giants.

Clint Hartung, pitching some of the most effective ball of his major league career, handcuffed the Rhinelanders with three hits yesterday, giving the New Yorkers their second shutout victory in as many days, 5-0. They whipped the Reds 3-0 Tuesday night.

Nary a Redleg reached second in yesterday's one-sided encounter and the visitors helped Hartung's cause by hitting into three double plays.

Herm Wehmeier, touched for eight assorted blows pitched on even terms with the New York right-hander until the fourth when he walked catcher Walker Cooper. Cooper stole second when Wehmeier absent-mindedly took a windup. Bobby Thomson scored Cooper with a double and came home on Buddy Kerr's single.

A walk and a double plated another Giant marker in the sixth and Sid Gordon rounded out the scoring with a two-run homer in the seventh.

A'S BEAT INDIANS ON DOBY'S NOGGIN

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 29 — The Cleveland Indians today could list a new reason for losing a ball game—over-hustling.

The eighth inning fly ball that hit center fielder Larry Doby on the head set two unearned runs across the plate yesterday and enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to triumph 4 to 3 and replace Cleveland in second place.

The strange occurrence took place in the eighth with the Indians leading by one run, two out and Athletics on first and second.

Third baseman Don White lifted an easy fly to short left center field. The ball was in Dale Mitchell's territory and he called for it. Even Manager Lou Boudreau called for Mitchell to take it but Doby giving it the old college try, just kept coming.

Doby lost the ball in the sun. It hit the tip of his glove, then bounced off his head.

The two runners easily scored the tying and winning runs in a game that meant much to the Indians. A victory would have elevated them within two percentage points of the league-leading Boston Red Sox.

The defeat was charged to Bob Lemon, who put the two runners on base in the eighth before he was relieved by Russ Christopher. It marked the third successive defeat for Lemon, who now has a record of 13 triumphs and nine setbacks.

SPORTS LAUGHS

By The Associated Press

In 1916, Duster Mails was just starting his career with the Brooklyn Dodgers. In his first year he was a third-string hurler but he considered himself as good as any of the great hurlers of the day.

The Dodgers won the flag, without much help from Mails, and on the train going to Boston for the World Series with the Red Sox, his teammates were ribbing Walter about not getting a share of the Series money.

The Duster insisted that he would get his share. But the teammates said that he had not taken part in enough games to earn a slice of the Series dough.

Mails was adamant and said: "Maybe I didn't get many chances to pitch but I'll tell you this—my heart was in every game you fellows played."

Mails got a share of the money.

INDEPENDENTS SPLIT

Marion Independents split a twin-bill with Marseilles last Sunday losing the first 6 to 1 and winning the nightcap 7-1. Johnson was the winning pitcher in the second contest. The Independents will take on Forest in an away game next Sunday at 2.

MISHKIN NAMED NEW NEWARK MANAGER

CCNY Coach Replaces Bob Dill as Yank Pilot.

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, July 29—Sol H. Mishkin, head varsity coach for the City College of New York, yesterday was named manager of the Newark baseball club of the Ohio-Indiana league.

Appointed by Club President Frank Arnold for the remainder of the 1948 season, Mishkin fills a vacancy created by the indefinite suspension of former manager Bob Dill by league President Frank M. Culley.

Culley charged Dill carried an argument into the umpire's dressing room following a game at Newark Sunday and used abusive language. He slapped down the indefinite suspension late Monday just prior to the league's annual All Star game, which Dill was slated to coach.

Dill was released by the Newark ball club.

Third Change

The Newark managerial change was the third in the eight-team Ohio-Indiana league circuit within a month.

Frank Kristie replaced Zeke Bekeza as Manager July 1 and Rufus Jackson took over the Springfield Giants when Bob Roth resigned last Saturday.

Mishkin, a veteran player and manager in the bush leagues, coached the CCNY basketball team to a second place finish in the New York college basketball league last winter with a record of nine wins and one loss.

Born in 1906, Mishkin has been in baseball since 1927 when he joined the San Francisco Seals upon graduation from Occidental college.

Mishkin's early years as a player carried him from San Francisco through Jersey City, Manchester, N. H.; Houston, Montreal, Norfolk, Springfield, Mass., and Williamsport, Pa., before he landed in the Yankee chain with Binghamton in 1933. He played two seasons there under Manager Bill Meyer, now piloting the Pittsburgh Pirates, and helped the erstwhile "miracle man of the Minors" win two pennants. Sol batted a solid .335 in each of those campaigns.

After the 1934 season, he left organized ball to teach school. He had just about completed his course of study at Columbia Teachers' college and he kept his baseball hand in by playing with the well known semi-pro Bushwicks of Brooklyn.

In 1943 the Yankees organization needed a manager to take charge of their Wallaville, N. Y., club in the Piney league and they induced Sol to take the job. The club had started the season under another manager and was wallowing in the second division when Sol arrived. He led them to a third place finish. He was back at Wallaville the following year but his club finished seventh. He improved on that in 1945 by winding up in fifth place.

The Yankees were pleased with his work, particularly his handling of young, inexperienced players and in 1946 they moved him up to the helm of their Amsterdam club in the Canadian-American league. He brought his club home fifth that year, then in 1947 led the Rugmakers through one of the most inspired late season drives ever witnessed to finish third after the team had languished near the bottom of the standings most of the summer.

Last winter, Sol was appointed baseball coach at the College of the City of New York. The Yankee organization retained him as a scout however.

Mishkin is married and has one daughter. He is still an active player.

NEXT MONDAY BIG DAY FOR LEGION,

Local Juniors To Start Fight for State Crown.

Next Monday will be the big day for Marion's American Legion Junior baseball team.

Sponsored by Bird-McGinnis Post 162 and Mercury Motor Sales the squad will take the field with thirteen other district champions to battle it out for the state championship on the Ohio State university diamonds.

The winner at Columbus will have the opportunity to enter sectional competition at Flint Mich., August 21.

Third baseman Dick Wolfe, suffering a fractured wrist bone is the only member of Marion's regular line-up who will not see service in the playoffs. The rest of the team is in good condition for Monday's opener.

Other district winners who will compete for the state title are Port Clinton Luns (Post 96) Springfield (Post 382) Cincinnati (Post 437) Mansfield (Post 18), Portsmouth (Post 23), Lancaster, Youngstown (Post 15), Cleveland (Post 402), and Cuyahoga Falls.

Marion's team batting average in games to date is 271.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

WILLIAM POWELL, born July 29, 1892, in Pittsburgh had a law career envisaged for him by his accountant father, because the boy began making speeches as soon as he could talk. High school dramatics sidetracked William. He says he starved with Ralph Barton to get on the stage.

Many Danish women have "curiosity mirrors" which enable them to look up and down the street from their windows.
